BEATTIE DEFENSE HAS AN INNING

Effort to Corroberate Defendant as to Bearded Highwayman.

STRANGE MAN SEEN BY TWO

Witnesses Say He Had Stubby Beard and Carried Single Barrel Gun —One Statement of Paul Beattie's Contradicted

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 30.—Testimony corroborative to the story told by Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., that a bearded highwayman killed his wife with a shot gun was introduced by the defense in the Beattie trial today when W. R. Holland, who lives in the vicinity of the Midlothian turnpike where the murder occurred, declared that he had seen a bearded man with a shot gun there about five hours before the tragedy.

It was the first move of the defense after the prosecution rested its case at noon today to estal ish the veracity of the prisoner, and besides Holland's statement concerning a man with a shot gun, Eugene Hanshaw, a farmer, who travels the Midlothian turnpike daily testified that he saw a strange looking man prowling around on three different days before the murder.

It is reported tonight that the prosecution is ready when its time for rebutal arrives to put on the stand the man who passed along the railroad tracks where Holland said he saw a man with a shot gun and that the new witness will say he was squirrel hunting that day.

The defense summoned many witnesses. Besides the testimony regarding the bearded man expert testimony was introduced as to the bouncing qualities of an automobile similar to that driven by Beattie, thereby accounting for the jolting out from the car of the shot gun placed in a rear seat by Beattie after the encounter with the alleged highwayman. The prosecution attacked this line of evidence on cross-examination. It contended that the railroad crossing where Beattie claims the gun must have been ejected from the car was a smooth one and that the jolt which might have resulted from crossing the tracks where the rails are exposed necessarily would have tossed the weapon forward from the crossing instead of directly sideways parallel with the track where the gun was found. The idea of the prosecution has been to indicate that Beattie himself slowed down at the crossing and threw the gun to one side on his way to the Owen home with his dead wife.

The defense sought to show that being held up by highwaymen while motoring in this vicinity was not an uncommon occurrence and put on a stand a chauffeur who related an experience with a highwayman a year ago.

The commonwealth attorneys objected to the testimony as irrevelant. Judge Watson ruled that unless a great many instances could be pointed to showing holdups of a similar character to the one described by the prisoner, evidence as to a single incident of the kind would be ruled out. The defense announced that it intended to give other instances later.

Beattie's counsel attacked the declaration of Sam Tally that he heard on the night of the murder a shot and the scream of a woman on Midlothian turnpike. Several witnesses testified that the morning after the murder when Beattie talked with Tally and othrs, nothing was said about a woman screaming.

An amusing incident occurred when the defense put on the stand William Pemberton, a man of 48 years of age, to attack the truthfulness and character of Tally. Pemberton's own mentality was questioned by Prosecutor Wendenburg. "Are you right in your mind?" asked the prosecutor.

"What do you mean, am I crazy?" Pemberton asked.

"Well, no."

"Didn't you have nine cats chained in one room in your house once?" asked the prosecutor.

"No."

"Well, weren't there pictures taken of those cats?"

'May be."

Here the witness fidgeted and began to show signs of embarrassment. He turned on Mr. Wendenburg savagely, exclaiming, "Look here, man, are you trying to cross-examine me? You are talking out of your head—"

The witness continued talking rapidly but his remarks were drowned in the laughter of the court room and even after Judge Watson had restored order the witness talked on in lightning like speed until the court ordered him to stop. Even the prisoner joined in the laughter and was the last in the court room to regain his composure.

When Eugene Henshaw, a farmer of Bon Air, who traveled daily on the Midlothian turnpike just before the murder, was put on the witness stand, was asked to testify if he saw any stranger on the road on the days before or after the murder.

I met a man walking on the road whom I thought was a lunatic—"

"Don't give us your opinion—"

"I saw the man," continued the wit-

DEFENSE AGAINST AIRSHIPS

New Six-Pounder Gun to Demolish Aeroplanes at Long Range is Perfected for Use of Army. Projectiles and Shot.

Washington, Aug. 30.—A new six-pounder gun, equipped with specially adapted high explosive projectiles and schrapnel shells, to demolish aeroplanes and balloons in battle, has been perfected by the United States army. It can be elevated at any angle and possesses a maximum effective range of seven miles.

The construction of the new rifle has just been completed at the Rock Island, Ill., arsenal. Experiments with it will begin at the Sandy Hook proving grounds within a fortnight. The army thus is in advance of the navy, toward solution of the problem of defense against airships. The navy only a few days ago conducted its first tests with the carriage of a one-pounder gun.

The shells which this army gun will hurl into the skies are described as remarkable devices. They will be loaded with dunnite or other high explosives, and upon bursting will send forth a shower of shot in a cone-like aren, similar to the performance of a sky-rocket, almost certain to strike an airship if aimed with any degree of accuracy. Other projectiles which have been designed for the new gun contain only a high explosive which upon exploding would wreck any airship in its vicinity.

Following in the wake of these powerful projectiles, will be traces which will aid in accurately aiming the gun in the course of a hostile airship. The tracers to be used in the daylight hour will be of smoke, while sparks will show the path of the shell at night.

The sight of the new gun also has been perfected, designed to meet the changing conditions of the trajectory of a projectile fired at varying angles. As soon as the angle of the aeropiane has been detected the sight will automatically set the gun to the proper elevation.

The gun is the result of experiments held at Sandy Hook several months ago.

In the experiments at Sandy Hook, the army will shoot at balloons and box kites and possibly a real aeroplane will be used for the purpose of sighting at great distances. The signal corps will be asked to co-operate with the ordnance department and send one of its airships now at College Park, Md., to the proving grounds.

Credit for the invention belongs to ordnance experts of the army working under the direction of Brigadier General William Crozier, chief of ordnance.

NORFOLK POLITICAL TANGLE.

Contestants Completed Their Direct Testimony Yesterday.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 30.—Contestants completed today their direct testimony before the sub-committee from the Democratic State Central Committee, which is investigating the Norfolk county primary of June 28th and "fusionism" generally in the county between Democrats and Republicans.

It was declared in today's testimony that the "fusionists" are supporting United States Senators Martin and Swanson in the present Virginia United States Senatorial campaign, while the "Straightouts" faction is for the most part supporting Jones and Glass.

The question of the resignation of Chairman W. M. McAllister, of the investigating committee isstill pending. The committee is declared to be divided on a question of calling for the resignation of the chairman, who expressed the belief that fusionism had been "conclusively" proven before contestees had offered evidence in defense. The chairman says he was misunderstood. Contestees open up tomorrow.

MAN MURDERED OVER CORPSE.

Long Quarrel Renewed at Wake of Mother-in-Law.

New Orleans, Aug. 30.—A quarrel of six months' standing over a toy electric battery ended today in the killing of Joseph Hasselback, aged 23, a cotton worker, by his brother-in-law, Charles Romback, aged 28, an ice man, at a wake over the body of their mother-in-law, Mrs. Henry Brink.

Hasselback was shot through the right breast and died a few minutes later. The shooting took place in a room adjoining that in which the corpse lay. Romback surrendered to the police. He said that he and Hasselback had quarreled six months ago because the latter insisted that Romback grasp one of the electrodes of a small battery. Romback says Hasselback came to the wake today, renewed the quarrel, struck him and in the scuffle which followed Romback's revolver was fired.

"ADDRESS TO THE COUNTRY."

Negro Independent Political League Takes Taft to Task.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 30.—In an address "to the country" adopted at today's session of its fourth annual convention, the National Independent Political League takes President Taft to task for his alleged color discrimination.

The address asserts that President Taft "announced color discrimination in the right to hold public office; perpetuated the injustice of the Brownsville soldiers; continued his bartering with the colored prejudices of the South by putting the balance of the Supreme Court in the hands of the Bourbon South; lent the prestige of his office to the doctrine of inferior education for colored Americans and refused to raise his voice for trial by jury for colored Americans."

PASSENGERS TELL OF STORM'S FURY

The Frightful Experiences of Those on Steamer Lexington Are Related.

HEROISM OF OFFICERS OF SHIP

Boy Wireless Operator on Board Stuck to His Post—Capt. Connolly's Bravery—Declines Further Passage by Water.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 30.—Passengers on the ill-fated steamer Lexington, which was beached on Edisto Island during the hurricane Monday afternoon, lived ten years in the space of 24 hours with the ship almost entirely submerged time and again while driven before the gale.

This was the statement made by some of those taken from the ship by the Revenue Cutter Yamacraw and who are stopping here in care of Chief Steward Berliner, awaiting orders from headquarters. This afternoon the passengers were given the privilege of proceeding to Savannah by rail and there take passage for Philadelphia, but with horrors of their recent experiences fresh in mind they promptly declined the offer.

Lack of power to resist the gale caused the Lexington to be beached. With five feet of water in the engine room, every pound of steam that could be raised was used to man the pumps and keep the ship afloat. With the boat under water, Steward Berliner managed to cook food for the passengers and creeping on hands and feet served it to them in the cabin where they were able to move through fear of being washed overboard.

Mrs. W. J. Mansfield, of Philadelphia, wife of the clerk of the chief of police of Philadelphia, was warm in her praise of Capt. Connolly.

"Had it not been for the superior seamanship of the captain," she said, "we would all be dead today."

"In the hour of trial which came between 1:30 and 2:30 Monday afternoon, Capt. Connolly displayed the greatest heroism and inspired all of us with hope. Chief Stewart Berliner and Wireless Operator Sheets also performed heroically and aided in our final rescue."

But for the heroism of Wireless Operator Sheets there would have been no chance of rescue. After the storm had wrecked the wireless station, Sheets climbed into the rigging and adjusted his instruments, flashing the calls for immediate assistance.

The signals were caught by the Yamacraw, which hastened to Hunting Island. Sheets, a 16-year-old lad, was in imminent peril of his life while operating the wireless, the wind almost tearing him from his insecure position. The lad was utterly exhausted by his desperate work.

Passengers incessantly prayed for abatement of the storm and when the government steamer hove into sight, a mighty cry of relief went up from the sorely stricken people on the Lexington. When the captain realized the danger of the liner's breaking up at any minute, he had life preservers strapped on every passenger.

The eight first cabin passengers on board the Lexington were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mansfield, of Philadelphia; Dr. W. S. Riedel, Mr. Donald Riedel and Gordon K. Riedel, all of Philadelphia; Mrs. J. Reed, Mrs. W. E. Stanton, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Joseph Berliner and Miss Mary Pfeffer, steward and stewardess, respectively, of the Lexington.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 30.—A message was received here about midnight from Beaufort, S. C., stating that the stranded steamer Lexington was floated at 4:30 this afternoon.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 30.—A wireless message received shortly before 7 o'clock by the wireless operator on the Clyde liner Apache, which is lying in this port, from the stranded steamer Lexington, stated that the steamer was still on the beach. Officers of the United States revenue cutter Yamacraw have little hope that the Lexington will be floated.

THE GATES' MILLIONS.

Not Left in Trust—Had Every Faith in His Son.

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 30.—John W. Gates did not leave his millions to be held in trust. He did not fear, as reported, that his son, Charles Gates, might imperil others who had invested on his (John W. Gates) advice. This was the information made public by relatives today. On the contrary, just before he breathed his last, the noted financier declared that he had every faith in his son.

"Charley is all right," he is said by relatives to have declared on his death bed. "I know him better than any one else; he can handle money all right. It won't go to his head."

Gates' will is to be probated in New York October 2nd, according to relatives in St. Charles, Ill. By its terms Gates' entire wealth, $38,000,000, except a number of minor legacies to valued friends and distant relatives, goes to the widow and Charles W. Gates. The son and Mrs. Gates will divide the great fortune made during the financier's career.

Gates, however, left a million dollars to friends and distant relatives. He made numerous bequests and his valet, his butler and the wife of his stenographer were among the many to whom he left legacies.

PRICE OF SUGAR IS SOARING

Granulated Sold in New York Yesterday at 6.25—Full Cent Advance Recently—Beet and Cane Crop is Short.

New York, Aug. 30.—Grocery circles here showed concern today over the high prices now prevailing in the sugar market. There was another advance in granulated during the day to 6.25 cents, representing a full cent rise in the last few weeks and the highest level in many years.

Coming at the height of the canning season, this advance is of vital interest to consumers all over the country. It is attributed primarily to a poor sugar beet crop in Europe, following prolonged drought this Summer. To make matters worse, the Cuban crop, which furnishes the bulk of the raw material for American refiners, also proved short, and prices began to soar.

Far sighted dealers bought large supplies some months ago, leaving the market almost bare of stock and raw sugars in consequence have made new high records, while many operators in the street predict that the end is not yet in sight.

NEIGHBORS WERE CURIOUS.

Broke Into Congressman's House to Solve "The Mystery."

Washington, Aug. 30.—Because for two days no sign of life had been seen around the house of Representative Martin Dies, of Texas, at Mount Ranier, Md., Justice of the Peace Joyce broke into the house to investigate what the neighborhood regarded as a mystery. Nobody was at home.

Mount Ranier's curiousity was aroused by the deserted appearance of the house after Mrs. Dies had told somebody that her husband was ill in bed. In Washington the affair is not taken seriously, as it is supposed that the Congressman and his wife merely left home for a little while without confiding their plans to the neighbors.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

Southern Association Will Likely be Dissolved—Electrical Trust.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Lawyers representing the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, which the government is prosecuting as a trust under the Sherman law, have practically agreed to accede to the demands of the Department of Justice. A formal decree, which will accomplish the legal dissolution of the combination, is being prepared. In it the grocers submit to practically all the demands made by the government in its suit.

Another alleged combination, the so-called electrical trust, is also under dissolution by the same process. A formal decree in that case probably will be ready in a few weeks.

N. & W. BUYS.

Acquires Valuable Branch Railroad in State of Virginia.

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 29.—Today the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company purchased the Virginia Anthracite Railroad, extending from Christiansburg to Blacksburg, a distance of ten miles, the purchase price being $100,000. The road will be of inestimable value to the people of Montgomery county, and to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, since it connects Blacksburg with the main line of the Norfolk & Western. It is said that the equipment will be better, and that the schedule will be improved. The property was sold at public auction at Christiansburg today, and the Norfolk & Western was the only bidder.

HACKENSCHMIDT HAPPY.

In Training Camp of the "Russian Lion," at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Because Hackenschmidt burst into song, the Russian Lion's camp was in an optimistic frame of mind today. Dr. Rollen, his trainer, said that he had been waiting anxiously for the musical outbreak as it always indicates that the wrestler has reached the pink of condition.

"I have been waiting for him to sing ever since we left England," Dr. Roller said. "It indicates his frame of mind. If he were worrying he would not emit lyrical roar."

Hackenschmidt did a bit of light road work today and indulged in a plunge in the surf.

PUBLICITY LAW IS DEFECTIVE

Startling Disclosures Made by Examining Recent Congressional Act.

VIRGINIA PRIMARY INVOLVED

Two Senatorial Candidates File Report of Expenses—Two Have Violated New Law—Subject to Fine of $1,000.

Washington, August 30.—Primary election expense statements from Senators Martin and Swanson, of Virginia, the first to be filed under the new publicity law that went into effect August 19th, reached the office of Secretary Bennett, of the Senate, today. In the absence of Secretary Bennett, officials of his office declined to make them public. Following this declination, a careful examination of the new publicity law resulted in the startling disclosure that in the fact, presumed to be most drastic, there is no requirement for publicity of the individual statements filed by candidates for the Senate or the House of Representatives.

The law requires the filing of individual expense statements and pledges of appointments, but it is apparently left to the discretion of the Secretary of the Senate or the clerk of the House, as the case may be, to decide whether these statements shall be given to the public. The publicity law of 1910 requires that the expenditures of campaign committees "shall be a part of a public record" in the office of the clerk of the House, "and shall be open to public inspection."

The statements received today from Senators Martin and Swanson will be forwarded to Secretary Bennett, in New York. What construction he will place upon the new law is not known. It was generally understood here during the preparation of the new law amending the Act of 1910 that the expenses of candidates for the Senate and House of Representatives. Much surprise was expressed today when it was realized that the law was entirely silent on the law of making this private expense statements public. The law requires that expenditures by committees in the election reports shall be a part of the public record of the House.

Two of the candidates in the Virginia Senatorial primaries to be held September 7, have not yet reported their expenses to the Secretary of the Senate, and apparently stand in violation of the law. The requirement is that the first expense statement shall be filed not later than ten days before the primary election. Yesterday was the last day in which the statements could be deposited in the mail to comply with the law. No reports have been received today from Congressman Glass or Congressman Jones, who are contestants in the Virginia race against the two Senators.

Failure to file such statements within the required time before election, if done willfully, carries with it the penalties of the law of 1910, namely a fine not exceeding $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 30.—The development that Congressman Jones and Glass, candidates for the Federal Senate from Virginia are alleged to have failed to comply with the law enacted by the last Congress, requiring the filing by candidates for the United States Senate and House of Representatives of statements of their primary election expenses is being discussed with great interest here.

Congressman Jones, who is in Richmond, declined tonight to comment on the situation. Congressman Glass could not be reached. Senator Swanson declined to make comment.

Lynchburg, Va., Aug. 30.—It is contended here that candidates for nomination for the United States Senator from Virginia in the primary to be held September 7th are not subject to the new campaign publicity law, inasmuch as they began their campaigns long before the law was enacted. An attempt to make application of the statute retroactive, it is claimed, would be illegal.

FLEMING CASE AGAIN.

Hearing Before Judge Peebles in Raleigh Begins Tomorrow.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—Before Judge Peebles Friday morning will begin the hearing to determine whether Mrs. Nelle Claire Fleming will get the possession of her two children pending the action for divorce which will be tried at the October term of Superior Court. The children were awarded by Chief Justice Walter Clark to Dr. A. H. Fleming, a paternal uncle, without prejudice as to Mrs. Fleming, Judge Clark stating that the petitioner did not appear to have the means to support herself and children. An effort will be made to show Judge Peebles that Mrs. Fleming has the means. Another matter that will be determined at this time is the question of the disposing of the Fleming residence on Blount street, Mrs. Fleming having entered suit to prevent its sale after she had signed away her rights in the home.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Mattamuskeet Drainage Question Reaches Supreme Court—Miller's Case At Fayetteville—State Farmers Convention

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 30.—A case of special interest argued on appeal in the Supreme Court today in connection with the hearing of appeals from the First District was Carter and others vs. Drainage Commissioners, from Hyde county, this being the case that has tied up the Mattamuskeet Drainage enterprise that is intended to make available some of the finest agricultural lands in the country that are now the Mattamuskeet lakebed and adjacent soggy lands.

The original proceeding for the formation of the drainage district involved a $400,000 bond issue, this being while the State Board of Education was a party as part owner of the lakebed. Later the State sold out its interest to The Southern Land Reclamation Co., and during the last Legislature a special act was passed allowing a $500,000 bond issue instead of $400,000, this adding an additional $25,000 burden to the private landowners represented by H. C. Carter, T. J. Jennette, J. C. Simmons and others, plaintiffs, in this litigation. They ask for a restraining order against issuing the additional $100,000 bonds. In the trial below before Judge O. H. Allen the motion for a restraining order was denied and the appeal is by the plaintiffs who are represented by Ward & Grimes, H. C. Carter, Jr., and J. C. C. Ehringhaus as counsel. The drainage commissioners are represented by Mann & Jones. The commissioners are J. S. Mann, T. B. Gibbs and Jno. P. Kerr. The drainage work is at a standstill now awaiting the termination of the suit.

Secretary Carr, of the State Department of Agriculture, has been summoned to go at once to Fayetteville to produce in Cumberland court there a department of agriculture records involved in the suit that the North Carolina Millers' Association have brought throught the McNeill Manufacturing Co., to test the constitutionality of the application of the 20 cents per ton inspection tax that the State Department exacts from the North Carolina millers as well as the millers of other States selling their products in North Carolina.

B. M. Brown, of the experiment farm, west of the A. & M. College, was thrown from his buggy last evening and his right leg broken. He is recovering nicely at Rex Hospital.

The Rhodiss Manufacturing Co., of Rhodiss, Caldwell county, filed today an amendment to its charter increasing the capital from $300,000 to $400,000. George B. Hiss is president of the company.

Out of about 20 local and district fair associations, Charlotte, Raleigh, Asheboro and Oxford were represented here today in a conference called by Commissioner of Agriculture Graham for the purpose of getting together in the matter of uniformity of rules for judging exhibits and awarding the premiums. The regulations that are proposed by Commissioner Graham to be applicable to all fairs in the State were read and approved, with the understanding that copies will be sent to all the other fairs that had no representatives here with a view to getting an agreement in time for uniformity to apply to the fairs that are to be held during this Fall. Joseph E Fogue, Raleigh; Edgar B. Moore, Charlotte; George R. Ross, Ashboro, and J. F. Webb, Oxford, were the representatives of fair associations here for the conference.

The second day of the State Farmer's Convention opened this morning at 8:30 o'clock with a demonstration of stock-judging by J. C. McNutt, of the A. & M. College; then followed an address at 10:30 o'clock by W. H. Merriman, of Illinois, on "Experience with "Hogs," and by W. H. Caldwell, at 11 o'clock on "The Guernsey Cow and Her Island Home." At noon there was a talk and exchange of ideas on the "Feeding of Farm Animals," led by J. C. McNutt, of the A. & M. College.

Dinner was served in the college dining hall at 12:30 and was followed by an auction of pure food Berkshire hogs by the North Carolina Berkshire Breeder's Association. Tonight at 7:30 Ernest Starnes, of Hickory, N. C., told the farmers haw he raised 146 bushels of corn on an acre of ground last year. The young man's straightforward talk brought on a profitable discussion of problems in corn culture. There were also held tonight the business meetings of the State Livestock Association and the North Carolina Berkshire Breeders' Association. The association will conclude its sessions tomorrow.

AT MERCY OF WIND AND WAVES.

Crew Taken From Schooner Sarah D. Fell at Sea.

New York, Aug. 30.—The hurricane that severed Charleston, S. C., from communication with the outside world early this week, caught the three-masted schooner Sarah D. Fell squarely and left her and her crew of eight at the mercy of wind and wave, according to a United Wireless dispatch received here today. The crew was picked up by the Standard Oil steamer City of Everett, bound from Sabine to New York, and the schooner was abandoned, a total loss. The City of Everett is due here tomorrow. The Sarah D. Fell sailed from Belfast, Ga., for Boston, with a cargo of lumber, on August 24. She was about 100 miles east of Savannah when the squall struck her.

TRAILED NEGROES FOR FIVE YEARS

Made Most Dangerous Counterfeit Silver Dollars in Circulation.

MAN AND WIFE WERE CROOKS

Their Moulds Were So Perfect They Showed Even Scratches on the Original Dollar—Government Experts Deceived

Washington, Aug. 30.—A wavering red line, straggling across a street map of the city of Memphis, on the wall at secret service headquarters here records the story of a five years hunt for a counterfeiter of silver dollars which reached its climax in Memphis today with the arrest of John G. Payne, a negro and his wife.

For more than five years the dollars, which Payne is charged with making, have been passing through banks in Memphis and some have even reached the sub-treasuries. They were accounted among the most dangerous counterfeit money with which the government has had to deal. All the resources of the secret service failed to turn up a clue as to their source.

Three months ago, assistant Chief W. H. Moran, the government's crack man on difficult cases, sent "Bill" Nye, also one of the flowers of the service, to Memphis. A few weeks later at a negro emancipation celebration at Paducah, Nye picked up the first information which led to the indentification of Payne as the man alleged to have been passing the dangerous coins. Nye followed Payne back to Memphis, consulted with Moran and the two men laid out a campaign.

Then, almost inch by inch, Nye began picking a trail through the streets of Mehphis to Payne's house. Every day Moran in Washington, with a pen and red ink, recorded the progress of Nye's search upon a map of the city of Mehphis. A few days ago the thin red line came to an end in the suburbs of Memphis, eight miles from the heart of the city. It stopped in front of an isolated farm house, surrounded by a high board fence which made it impossible for Nye to see in the windows.

Today Moran flashed a message over the wire to Memphis and a few hours later Nye reported the arrest of Payne and his wife as well as his capture of several of the counterfeit coins, the outfit for making them and the genuine dollars from which the moulds were made.

On the countefeit have been peculiar little dents and scratches. Nye reported that he found them in the genuine coins he took in the raid. Moran says that proves that the moulds from which the counterfeits were made were so perfect that they even re-produced the scratches and nicks of the genuine coins.

TRAGEDY AT BISHOPSVILLE.

Lawton Matuse Killed on Street by Joe W. Walters.

Bishopsville, S. C., Aug. 29.—Joe W. Walters, a farmer of the Alcot section, shot and killed Lawton Matuse on Main street here in front of the Jethro Almonds' moving picture show last night at about 9:30 o'clock. It seems from what can be gathered that Lawton Matuse and Wesley Walters, a son of Joe W. Walters, had been at outs for about two years or longer. On yesterday afternoon young Walters had been to town and on his way home he met Lawton Matuse and Elijah Gilbert in the Creek Swamp. Matuse and Gilbert, it seems, beat young Walters up and took his pistol away from him and came on to town. Joe W. Walters came to town some time afterwards and last night about 9:30 o'clock, while Matuse was sitting in a buggy in front of the show, talking to some other people, Walters shot him.

Coroner H. R. Barnes held an inquest over the dead body of Matuse this morning at 10 o'clock. The jury brought out the usual verdict that Lawton Matuse came to his death from a gunshot wound in the hands of Joe Walters.

RUN OVER BY AUTO.

Lynchburg Official Knocked Down and Seriously Injured.

Lynchburg, Va., August 30.—W. C. N. Randolph, superintendent of the City Water Department, was seriously injured this morning between 7 and 8 o'clock in Main street, when he was knocked down and run over by an automobile which was being driven by R. P. Magoon, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association.

The injured man was hurriedly put in the car and was driven to the St. Andrew's Hospital, where it was ascertained that he had sustained a compound fracture of the left leg, near the ankle. There were also slight hurts about the right elbow and on his head, but these are only painful and not serious. The small bone of the leg is broken in two places, in addition to the break of the larger bone.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The resignation of Midshipman A. L. Pendleton, Jr., of North Carolina, was accepted by Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop today, to take effect August 31. Midshipman Pendleton will go into the army.

Boston, Aug. 30.—Marty O'Toole, whose release from St. Paul Pittsburgh paid $22,500, the highest price in baseball history, made his debut today and the Pirate won the game, the first of a double header 6 to 4. Cy Young was in the box for the locals in the second game and shut out the pennant aspirants 6 to 0.

O'Toole's bow to National League fans was made in company with Kelley, the catcher for whom Pittsburgh paid St. Paul $4,000. The young pitcher's showing was marred by nervousness and his wildness placed him in a number of big holes. But he was strong in the pinches and his nine strike outs offset ten bases on balls. He hit safely twice out of four times at bat. Kelly was weak with the stick and gave way to Gibson.

In the second game Young pitched in his old time form and was well supported.

REDUCED RATES ON COAL

Rapid Development of Water Power Puts Railroads on Guard

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 29.—Effective October 15th the Norfolk & Western, Southern, Seaboard and Atlantic Coast Line railroads today announce a reduction of 10 per cent a ton on coal hauled into the Carolinas. The new tariff is subject to the approval of the Corporation Commission and, if effective, will result in the saving of thousands of dollars to the manufacturing industries of the two States. While the railroads give no reason for the voluntary reduction in rates, it is the impression that the continued water power development in this section and the consequent decrease in coal consumption is responsible.

WINSTON-SALEM WINS.

By Defeating Charlotte She Gets Carolina League Pennant.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 30.—By defeating Charlotte this afternoon the Winston-Salem baseball team cinched the Carolina League pennant for 1911. The season closes next Saturday and the locals have but three more games to play, whereas, they are four games ahead of Greensboro, their nearest competitor. The locals have a record of 69 games won and 37 lost.

One Explanation.

There are men who are startlingly successful as cheap politicians, and for the life of us we can not tell why, unless it be the wind bloweth where it listeth, and that from them the wind bloweth loud even though no one listeth long.—Exchange.

SOME OLD "SAILORS" COMING

Wilmington Fans Will Welcome Former Local Stars in Labor Day Games Here Between Carolina Teams.

As the time draws near interest is growing at a rapid rate among the local fans, who are looking forward with pleasurable anticipations to the baseball games to be played at League Park next Monday between the Greensboro and Greenville teams of the Carolina Association. Wilmington fans and fannabelles have not had an opportunity of seeing any professional ball this season and as this will be the only games to be played here it is expected that a capacity crowd will grace the grandstand at League Park on this occasion.

In a letter to The Star, Manager Frank Doyle, of the Greensboro team says: "We are coming to your city prepared to put up the best article of ball that is in every man on the team, and we confidently expect to take both games in order to get the big end of the gate receipts." Remarking further on the individual records of his men he says: "Carroll and Clapp," familiar faces on the local diamond, "are playing great ball and both are batting well up around the .300 mark. They have both been looked over by the 'scouts' and there is no doubt but that they will be seen in faster company next season. * * * The whole team has been playing consistent ball and without any bad luck we expect to give the Greenville fellows two hard battles." Wilmington friends of Charlie Carroll, who was released from Wilmington early last season against the vigorous protests of many of the fans, will be pleased to learn that he is coming up in the baseball world so rapidly, being little more than a boy. He is considered one of the best short stops in the Carolina League this year, and will be watched with interest at that station Monday.

Manager Stouch, of the Greenville team will bring with him no less than a half dozen former Wilmington players, which will make the performance of this team doubly interesting. Dick Smith, former manager of the Sailors, is still covering everything around third, while Jimmie Sharpe, whose consistent work helped materially in the winning of the championship for the Sailors two years ago, is still playing the old game on second. Ned Doak, who numbers his Wilmington friends by the hundreds and starred as a utility man throughout last season, will guard the Durham Bull in centre, Hoey, the best first baseman that ever donned a uniform in the Eastern Carolina League, will be at his station and will recall old times to the fans, while Bussey, who will pitch one of the games, has developed into one of the best twirlers in the league. Last of all we have one who is nearer perhaps, to the hearts of the local fans than any of the rest, Bert Kite, who is excelling all his past records this season at the receiving end for Greenville and is batting among the best on the team. He will receive the benders put over by either Eldridge or "Deacon" Morissey in the morning game.

The teams will probably arrive in the city at noon Sunday, and will be fresh for Monday's games and prepared to put up a stiff struggle for the lion's share of the money. The time of the morning and afternoon games and the full line-up of both teams will be given in Sunday's paper.

WOMAN DEFIES SEWER GANG.

Stays on Guard to Keep Walk Clean Until Walled in With Dirt.

Baltimore, August 30.—Defying a gang of workmen employed by B. F. Sweeten & Son, municipal sewer contractors, Mrs. Annie Murral, of 708 Cumberland street, seated herself in a rocking chair where an excavation was being made in front of her house today, and held up operations for some time. It was only when walled in by dirt in a circular pile, that she finally capitulated.

Mrs. Murray did not object to having the work performed, but she wanted it deferred. She had planned to entertain several women friends this afternoon and desired that the sidewalk in front of her residence should present a good appearance. Her explanations were futile, and it was then that she put herself on guard. The men stopped work until a foreman appeared. He ordered that Mrs. Murl ray be not disturbed, but that the dirt be piled around her. When this had continued until she was hemmed in, she gave up the fight.

ITALIAN CRIME.

Effort in New York to Stem Tide of "Dago" Atrocities.

New York, Aug. 30.—All the Italian detectives in the city, 75 in number, were summoned to police headquarters today and assigned to stem the wave of Italian crime. The seriousness of the situation became apparent today, when it was learned that the Italian government had received through its consul here a list of crimes committed by natives of that country here since the first of the year, and was much exercised by the showing. It was stated that the detective bureau has a list of no less than 5,000 Italian ex-convicts believed to be in New York city at this time.

The immediate provocation of the Italian crime crusade was the two kidnapping cases reported to the police yesterday, and still unsolved. In addition, police records show fourteen cases of bomb-throwing since July 14. The action of Police Commissioner Waldo today practically revives the once famouns Italian detective bureau, which was disbanded only a month ago.

WELLS OUTBOXES BROWN.

British Lightweight Adds to His Laurels in New York.

Madison Square Garden, New York, Aug. 30.—Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, added to his fistic laurels by outboxing "Knockout" Brown, the New York lightweight, in a ten-round bout before the largest crowd that probably ever witnessed a pugilistic contest in New York city tonight. The bout, the second to be held under the new boxing law, brought a crowd of probably 14,000 persons to the Madison Square Garden.

The British champion was never in danger at any period during the milling, and left the ring unmarked, while "Knockout" Brown was bleeding about the mouth and from a cut under his right eye.

Wells' cool and calculating defense had the American sorely puzzled and he repelled Brown's attack from every angle. Brown could not solve the Englishman's left jab, which played about his face in lightning rapidity, and kept the American from doing any damage at in-fighting. Seven of the rounds clearly belonged to Wells. Referee Charley White had to caution both men frequently in the clinches. The battle gave "Knockout" Brown's championship aspirations a severe setback. Popular opinion gave the battle to Wells, but no decision was rendered.

It was announced that both men had weighed in under 135 pounds. There was some betting at 100 to 75 on Wells.

"Harlem Tommy" Hopkins had a shade over Joe Bell in a four-round preliminary, and in the semi-finals Jim Coffey shaded Harvey Kelley in six rounds.

It was stated that the gate receipts totalled $30,000. Brown received 32 1-2 per cent., and Wells 22 1-2 per cent. of the gross receipts.

UNANIMOUS FOR MADERO

Nominated for Mexican Presidency—Running Mate Not So Fortunate

Mexico City, Aug. 30.—With no dissenting voice, Francisco I. Madero this afternoon received the nomination of the Progressive Party for president, but Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, his old running mate and ertwhile agent of the revolution at Washington, was grilled by partisans of three other candidates for the vice presidency. When the convention adjourned tonight the candidacy of no other man for the vice presidency than Vasquez Gomez had been considered. Jose Pino Suare continued a favorite in the betting with Alfredo Robles Dominguez as second choice.

Madero was the only candidate for the presidency whose name was placed before the convention. No speech was made. The chairman announced his candidacy, went through the formality of asking if there were others and was greeted by a chorus of "noes." One delegate seated on the stage attempted to make a speech in Madero's support. The delegates shouted him down and called for a vote. It was unanimous.

A committee was appointed to notify Madero of his nomination. When it had performed its duty and reported that he had accepted and had agreed to appear before the body at 11 o'clock tomorrow the convention adjourned and marched in a body to Madero's home in Colonia Juarez.

Impromptu speeches were then exchanged after which the newly created politicians left for their hotels.

The announcement of Madero's acceptance came at the conclusion of a speech which brought about the most dramatic moment of the convention. By agreement the names of the candidates for the vice presidency had been drawn by lot to be discussed in rotation.

Vasquez Gomez was the first name drawn from the urn. For and against a number of delegates had spoken when Jesus Ureta began a speech in opposition. Renowned as one of the most brilliant of the most brilliant of Mexico's orators he had little difficulty in swaying an audience already opposed in the majority to the candidacy in question. Louis Cabrera, writer of National fame and better known as S Bias Urrea, undertook to answer the orator's arguments. Cabrera piled fact upon fact to show how really valuable Vasquez's services had been especially in contributing money to the cause of the revolution. In the midst of his speech he sprang his sensation. When he read a telegram which he alleged had been inspired by and sent at the direction of the cntral committee which political ethics in Mexico bars from concerted advocacy of candidacy. It was instructions to work for the candidacy of Pino Suarez. Immediately every delegate in the house was on his feet, the members of the central committee seated upon stage with the chairman rushed to the front and were met by a half dozen delegates who crowded over the footlights waving their arms and shouting their approval or disapproval of the alleged exposure members of the accused committee shook their fists in Cabrera's face and protested their innocence.

Cabrera cooly listened to the turmult.

For more than thirty minutes, the pandemonium prevailed but in the end Cabrera was permitted to conclude his arguments.

FOUGHT WITH LION.

Mexican Mortally Wounded in Fight to Save Child's Life.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 29.—Mortally wounded in a fight with a Mexican lion in a vain effort to save the life of his three-year-old child, which the animal was tearing to pieces, Antonio Miguel Esteva, a Mexican, died a few hours later at a hospital in Matamoras, Mexico.

Esteva lived on a ranch about seven miles south of Matamoras and had left his three children at the house while he worked in the field. A Mexican lion, now rarely seen in that part of Mexico, appeared in the yard and crawled up to the three-year-old child. The child, thinking it a new pet, began striking it, when the lion leaped upon it, terribly lacerating the little boy.

The screams of the child attracted the father, who, running to the child's assistance, grabbed the lion, which turned upon him. For 15 minutes man and animal fought, the Mexican with his knife. When finally he drove the knife into the heart of the animal, Esteva dropped mortally wounded. His body was terribly torn by the animal's claws.

We will put on in full force our Annual September Furniture Sale. As all four former sales, this is a bona fide low priced sale. No faking, no false claims, no misrepresentations to deceive the purchasing public. We are here to stay, to make good and prove every advertised article and price. Three features that should appeal to the honest buyer who is looking for honest goods from reliable home merchants.

Second. We never allow goods to remain on our floor to get old. We have a complete stock of regular goods which we will dispose of during this sale at actual cost to make room for our new fall stock.

Third. Our buyer has just returned from the Northern markets, where he bought largely of specials to throw in and round up and tone up the stock which will be sold during this sale, with no object of profit making—only to add ginger to the sale and make it a bigger success.

The terms are strictly cash and we trust that purchasers will not embarrass us by asking that these goods be charged at these prices. Arrangements can be made for satisfactory time purchases.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE

Negro Killed Another at "Entertainment" at Fayetteville, N. C.

(Fayetteville Observer 30th.)

Another killing occurred in Fayetteville last night, when Jim Balckman, a negro, shot to death Will Marsh, another negro. The tragedy was enacted at an entertainment at the armory about 10 o'clock, near the entrance to the ticket office.

Dr. J. V. McGougan, county coroner, summoned a jury, and from the evidence it was a most unprovoked killing. It seems that Jim Blackman, the slayer, was in a mood to shoot, and just before the affair happened he remarked to Cicero Gardner, a negro cook at Napier's Cafe, that he was "bound to kill a negro before morning; I am drunk as h—." About this time Marsh, the slain man, came into the hall, when Blackman accosted him, and, after a trivial dispute, drew his gun and shot him, and after he fell shot again. Both shots took effect—one in the right breast, and one in the right arm. The wound in the breast evidently caused death, as it is thought to have severed the aorta.

Blackman immediately left the hall, and has not yet been apprehended.

Will Marsh, the victim, was employed in the baggage room of the A. C. L. Railroad, and had been in the employ of the company for some years. He bore a good reputation as an industrious, law-abiding citizen. He was about 25 years of age, was married but had no children. He was a giant in strength, and as the writer looked upon his nude body on the undertaker's table, he saw a physically perfect man cut down in the prime of manhood!

Jim Blackman, the slayer, is quite young, hardly having reached his majority, and so far as we can learn, follows no occupation for a livelihood.

Sheriff McGeachy has officers scouring the country for Blackman. It is believed that he is in Seventy-First township, and is said to have staid on a farm about three miles from Fayetteville last night.

CAMORRISTS SENTENCED.

Two Ringleaders Given Three Months for Insulting the Court.

Viterbo, Italy, Aug. 30.—Enrico Alfano, the alleged head of the Camorrists, and Giuseppo Minichiello, another member of the Camorra, now on trial for the murder of Gennaro Guoccolo and his wife, were condemned to three months' imprisonment today for insulting Cavaliere Bianchi, the president of the court.

When the session was resumed this morning the prisoners were again confronted with a carabineer, whose testimony dealt with the finding of Cuoccolo's ring. Alfano and Minichiello took offense at the manner in which questions were put to the witnesses and shouted that the judge was suggesting his answers. This caused so much confusion that the proceedings were interrupted.

After the tumult had subsided the public prosecutor demanded that Alfano and Minichiello be tried on the charge of insulting the judge and the two chief disturbers were condemned to six months' imprisonment. The excited state of the prisoners, however, induced the judge to insist on the sentence being reduced to three months in each case.

EXCITEMENT IN TOWN

Man Skipped His Board and Lumberton Police Turned Out

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 30.—Great excitement was caused here tonight about 8:30 o'clock when the various drug stores and other places received hurry telephone messages to send policemen to Britt's boarding house, in the eastern part of town. A rush was made by officers and those on the streets at the time and enough people congregated to have stopped Grant's army. Some fellow had skipped his board bill but when the police and citizens arrived the bird had flown.

Middleboro, Ky., Aug. 30.—Henry M. Ashby Camp, United Confederate Veterans, has sent copies of resolutions of condolence for the families of members of the G. A. R. who were killed in the recent wreck at Manchester, N. Y., to Judge Trumble, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

COLUMBUS CORONER DEAD.

Another County Official Dead—Crop Prospects—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Aug. 30.—News has reached Whiteville of the death of County Coroner Lott C. Mills, who died at his home near Clarendon on the 29th. He has been confined to his home for the past few weeks, and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Mills was in his 78th year, and for a man of his age, up to a few months ago, was remarkably active and possessed a large amount of vigor and strength. He was a brick mason by trade and a building was never too high for him to ascend. He was always jovial in spirits and seemed in splendid health. He served in the Confederate army and was a valiant soldier. He was a member of the Missionary branch of the Baptist church and held a membership in Mt. Sinai. At the time of his death he was serving his third term as coroner. He is survived by a large number of children and grandchildren. His wife preceded him to the grave about a dozen years ago. This is the second officer Columbus has lost by death in the past week.

Miss Maude Harper, a charming young lady of Lebanon section and daughter of J. K. Harper, Esq., and Mr. James B. Pittman, of Conway, S. C., were united in marriage at Conway Thursday night. It was a surprise marriage.

Whiteville citizens were grieved to hear of the death of Mr. George Nicholas, of Freeman, which occurred at the James Walker Memorial Hospital in Wilmington, where he was carried for treatment for typhoid pneumonia. He leaves a widow and six children.

Mr. Martin Long, whose home is in the Rose Hill section of the county, but was working with the lumber company at Andrews, S. C., was seriously injured in a wreck. His brother went after him Sunday and he is improving.

Mr. J. I. Williamson, who has just returned from a trip to southern Alabama, says the boll weevil is playing havoc with cotton and in some fields farmers have hands catching the pests and putting them in bottles, with a hope of exterminating them. Mr. Williamson says the weevil is ruining the crops, and there are myriads of them. He reports a short cotton crop wherever he traveled.

There will be a Farmers' Union picnic at Elkton depot on Tuesday, September 5th. Several distinguished speakers will be on hand and a big dinner spread. Everybody invited.

Mr. J. R. Maxwell, who was so badly beaten up and disfigured in a fight with Mr. Aubrey Smith, was able yesterday to walk around the room and it is thought he will be in a condition to attend the trial Saturday. Dr. Maxwell, his attending physician, says there is still danger of some complication ensuing. At one time it was feared he would lose the sight of one eye.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT.

News of Outrage at Black Mountain, N. C.—Parties White.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, Aug. 30.—Deputy Sheriff Mitchell has just returned from Black Mountain, where he went to investigate a charge of attempted rape by a young man named Blount Hall. Hall is supposed to have left the country and was not arrested. The woman in the case is a Miss Alexander, of Acton, a young lady of excellent family, about 18 years of age.

Mr. Mitchell related the particulars as follows: The young lady had been visiting at Black Mountain and started to leave for home Sunday afternoon. Her little sister was with her. The train was late and while waiting she asked Hall where she could get a drink. He told her to go with him and told the little girl to stay where she was and he would bring her some water.

They went for some distance and the young lady finally refused to go further. Hall then made an improper proposal to her and when she repulsed him he took hold of her and tried to throw her to the ground. She caught hold of a little sapling and wrestled with him for some time, meanwhile screaming for help. Some people passed by and heard her and when Hall saw them coming he ran away. Hall is said to be the son of the man who is engaged in the mayoralty contest which is pending in the courts.

LAD FATALLY INJURED.

Fell Against Hub of Wagon, Entangled in Wheel.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 30.—Isadore, the young son of M. Goldman, was seriously if not fatally injured about three miles from this city this morning by falling against the hub of a wagon wheel when the animal hitched to the vehicle became unmanageable and attempted to run away. The lad had gone out to Mr. Isaac Cohn's slaughter house early in the day to watch the men slaughter a number of beeves. The animal that was hitched to the vehicle which carried the party out to the slaughter house, became unmanageable after the arrival there and one of the men told the lad to jump out of the wagon. This he attempted to do but in some way he became frightened just after he had jumped and instead of running away from the vehicle, ran towards it and became entangled in the front wheel. He was brought to the city and carried to a physician's office where an examination showed that his skull had been fractured. Later in the day he was taken to Stewart's Sanitarium, where an operation will be performed and unless unexpected complicaions se in, it is more than probable that he will recover.

JUDGMENT IN DICKENS CASE.

Fines and Portion of Costs Imposed on Brothers.

Wilson, N. C., Aug 29.—Judge Justice today, in Halifax Superior Court, imposed a fine of $200 and two-thirds of its cost on former Chief of Police S. M. Dickins, and $50 fine and one-fourth of the costs on Lonnie Dickens, found guilty of assault on George Jones with a deadly weapon March 25th. The total costs in the case amount to about $1,000.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The War Department today authorized Lieuts. E. F. Graham and John C. Montgomery, of the United States Cavalry, to participate in the riding at the Nashville, Tenn., horse show, September 18th. Both officers attended the international horse show at London several months ago.

STATE POSTMASTERS.

State Convention Soon to Be Held in Asheville—Entertainment.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mebane, N. C., Aug. 28.—The North Carolina Postmasters will meet in Asheville, N. C., September 19th, 20th and 21st. Asheville was selected last year at the Winston meeting, but the date was left open to be filled by the executive committee; and the executive committee has called the meeting as above stated. Plans are being put on foot to make this the most successful meeting the Postmasters have ever held in North Carolina. The programme is being arranged to include almost all the branches of postoffice work and these discussions will be headed by parties who are experts along these special lines. In connection with other discussions there will be a question box and any member may ask any question that he wishes discussed, and this will make the meeting more interesting to the smaller offices.

The officers of the association of North Carolina are Mr. J. R. Joyce, president, Reidsville, N. C.; vice presidents, Mr. T. E. Wallace, Wilmington; Mr. W. H. Jenkins, Henderson; Mr. J. G. Walser, Lexington; Mr. J. O. Fitzgerald, Pelham; secretary-treasurer, Mr. S. Arthur White, Mebane. Major W. W. Rawlins, Asheville, is chairman of the entertainment committee and is making arrangements to give the Postmasters a pleasant stay in the city of the skies.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT MALARIAL POISONING

Malaria is a disease which gradually destroys the strong, nourishing elements of the blood. When the malarial poison begins to absorb the rich, red corpuscles of the circulation, we see pale, sallow complexions and a general impairment of health. As the blood becomes weaker the appetite fails, digestion is disturbed, chills and slight fever are frequent, and in aggravated cases boils and eruptions break out on the flesh. Malaria is blood poverty, and the only way to cure the trouble is to enrich and purify the circulation. Nothing is equal to S. S. S. as a blood purifier, and it is especially adapted to the cure of malarial troubles because it contains no harmful minerals, and while ridding the system of the malarial germs, S. S. S. builds up the entire constituion by its fine tonic effects. If you are suffering with Malaria begin the use of S. S. S. and rid yourself of this weakening disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write and request it. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

Most anything that is said about the dog days will be excused. Dog-gone 'em!

The Democrats and Insurgents have found out that President Taft is opposed to reciprocity with them.

Today, just 25 years ago, occurred the great Charleston earthquake. A quarter of a century! Who can realize it?

A Western paper says: "Alderman Gunn was premature with his ordinance." It seems quite natural for a Gunn to go off half-cocked.

There will be a whole lot of fun at Baltimore next year when Woodrow Wilson is nominated for President by the great National Democratic Convention.

A dispatch says a Washington man shot himself on account of bad beer. What the Dickens would he have done to himself if he had got hold of some that's good?

Some men will fight about their dog or watch, even though the canine may not be worth skinning and the chronometer would be turned down at a pawn shop.

A fellow who is in favor of protection thinks Taft did the proper thing when he hid behind a little old Tariff Board to keep Congress from doing what the people elected it to do.

A fellow in New York coughed up a carpet tack. That is somewhat remarkable, it is true, but on Wall Street it is an every day occurrence for men to cough up their money.

Senator LaFollette proposes to remain in Washington to hunt up material against President Taft. Senator LaFollette refuses to adjourn just because Congress decided to do so. His report to himself would no doubt bring $2 a word.

President Taft may be a "judicial President" but as a politician he surely is a novice. His keynote speech at Hamilton, Mass., appeared to have been succeeded by a chorus of editorial condemnation from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Twenty Illinois families have settled in Ware county, Georgia. They, or others, might have settled in eastern North Carolina if we had carried out the plans which we have talked about so enthusiastically since we began to talk Wilmington 'steen years ago.

Says the Baltimore Sun: "Lovers of Rhine wine, of Moselle and of Hock may have to go deeper into their pockets to gratify their taste for these German beverages, or do without. This is the opinion of Mr. J. Tunnecke, who recently returned from a trip through the wine districts of Germany." Nevertheless, the usual supply of foreign wine will be made in this country without reference to any short grape crop in the old country.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, has announced that he will support Senator LaFollette for the Republican nomination next year. He said in an interview with a representative of the Des Moines Register: "Personally, I am opposed to President Taft. If I had my way he would not be the choice of the Republican National Convention and if it were possible for me to prevent it I do not hesitate to say that I would do so." There is less reason how than ever for the insurgents to oppose President Taft, yet while he is bound to be the Republican nominee it will be because the party cannot help itself and not because he is the logical candidate.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE

Probably one of the causes of our ten-year panics is because we live off each other till we can't stand it and then suddenly draw in our horns and bring on a collapse. We have shut ourselves in with a tariff wall and depended on the home market while other Nations have built ships and gone into all the markets of the world. When we overload our home markets we shut down our factories and protected labor is thrown out of a job for a large portion of the year. After a while idle labor will begin to ask itself where its share of protection comes in.

If we paid half as much attention looking abroad for markets as we do getting tariff graft from the government, we might have a merchant marine and be trading with all the world, especially with our South American enighbors. Probably the Panama Canal will open up new opportunities for us and it may open our eyes to the importance of other markets. than those at home. Probably the Isthmian Canal is going to cause us to turn over a new leaf, for already we are looking forward to a great increase of business with South America.

We are going to give up our contracted idea of the home market, and especially is the South anticipating the establishment of trade relations with South American countries. It is up to us to organize for it, lay plans and go after it, however, for it is not going to come to us. Logically, our Southern ports ought to do an immense business with Latin America, but our natural advantages will not amount to much unless we get some initiative about us and prepare to do business.

Savannah sees her opportunity in the canal and so a movement was begun there some months ago by the Chamber of Commerce to get her share of South American trade. It depends on Southern ports to do for themselves what is to be done about this matter, and Savannah is wise in taking time by the forelock. New Orleans and probably other Gulf cities, have gone to work but so far as we have heard, Savannah is the only South Atlantic port to start an organized movement to do business. The port which will do the most of it will be the one which goes to work, looks into the possibilities and follows them up. It is none too early to begin to work, because ships will be moving through the canal in two years. The port that is ready will do business and any one of them may take such a lead that it practically may monopolize triffic from the South Atlantic. Savannah has taken the lead, and in referring to it the Atlanta Journal remarks:

"Every week brings fresh reminders that this country is sleeping over one of its richest birthrights in its neglect of the commerce of these prosperous Latin republics. Each year those nations import something more than a billion and a half dollars' worth of goods, and yet the United States, their next door neighbor, receives only about twelve per cent. of this trade. In an article recently published in the New York Times, Mr. James C. Hamlen, whose close touch with conditions in South America enables him to speak on such matters expertly, says that when he was at Beunos Ayres a few months ago he saw great steamers and sailing vessels anchored in a line ten or fifteen miles down the river discharging their cargo into lighters to be towed to the city, and that of all these craft not one was flying the American flag, but principally the British and the German. This anomalous situation is due largely, as Mr. Hamlen points out, to our short-sighted tariff restrictions and also to apathy on the part of our merchants and manufacturers. There can be no doubt that the fomrer impediment will soon be removed. The Canadian reciprocity agreement has the support of public sentiment throughout the union. Reciprocity with the leading republics of South America is almost equally as important, for their combined trade is really greater than Canada's. The Canadian pact has opened the way and in due time its liberal policy will be extended to our Southern nighbors. The Southern States, as we have said, should be particularly interested in this matter. If they are to enjoy their due benefits from the opening of the Panama Canal they must make ready for the opportunities that will thus be opened. Otherwise, the canal will serve only to enrich the profits of foreign nations."

The opportunity to trade with South America certainly will be ours and trade in its largest sense means a reciprocal exchange of products. However, as we said before, it matters not how close a port is to the South American trade, that means nothing unless we are prepared to take advantage of it.

SPEAKER CLARK'S HAMMER

Speaker Champ Clark wouldn't stand for what President Taft said in his speech at Hamilton, Mass., reflecting on the course of the Democrats and Progressive Republicans during the extra session of Congress. In a signed interview at Quincy, Ill., on Tuesday, the Speaker hammered the President and he didn't hit a lick amiss. He hit hard, too, but it was done in such a respectful way that President Taft is bound to feel it if he is susceptible of knowing when he gets it stuck to him.

Clark not only convicted the President of ingratitude but he proved from the Congressional Record that the President mis-stated the history of tariff legislation at the extra session. In the latter instance, the printed record itself refutes the strictures of the President, while the Speaker's charg of ingratitude is more than sustained by the general knowledge of the public, which is perfectly aware that if the Democrats had not stood at Taft's back on reciprocity "he would have been the most thoroughly discredited and humiliated President since the days of Andrew Johnson." The truth of that is plain to everybody who knows that in both the House and Senate the President's own party was against him and repudiated his policy both by their speeches and their votes.

The only reason Congress did not also repudiate and humiliate the President was because the Democrats and Insurgents came to his rescue. Now that he is not only making a fight on them, but is actually misrepresenting them, is all the evidence that one needs for convicting Mr. Taft of ingratitude. Indeed, it was the President who has "played politics" instead of the Democrats, and it doesn't take a keen observer to realize that it is poor politics at that. Ingratitude is unpardonable and certainly Speaker Clark has proven it on the President, who for the sake of his renomination and possible election, does not hesitate to turn his back on those who saved his face. In that the President ceases to be broad, and we do not know what effect it will have on men at large, but it certainly ought to lose support for either a Republican or a Democrat who shows such a trait.

Speaker Clark certainly made it look bad for the President when he demonstrated that he was a man who ignored his obligations to those who prevented his overthrow in the house of his own friends. Clark in referring to the President's attack, says: "I accept his onslaught as a badge of honor." Perhaps it is an honor, for the President does not even stand ir with his own party, since the Speaker reminds him that "with all the influence and patronage of his great office he could not muster a majority of House Republicans for reciprocity in either the 61st or 62nd Congress."

President Taft's attack on the Democrats and Insurgents, serves to emphasize the fact that his Tariff Board, ostensibly appointed "to take the tariff out of politics," was really established to prevent tariff revision. The Board is responsible to the President, and the first opportunity he got he fell back on the Board as an excuse for delaying action on the tariff. Certainly, it is not a reason, for it is by no means certain that the Tariff Board knows one-tenth as much about the tariff as does Clark or Underwood.

We said at the time the Tariff Board was being constituted that it was a means of taking the question out of the hands of the people, and it now turns out that President Taft's first use of it in this connection was to defer to his personally appointed Tariff Board instead of the people's representatives. Since the Tariff Board is available for preventing tariff revision it is easily to be seen that in the hands of a real Tariff Commission the doctrine of protection would be forever perpetuated.

If men were as smart as women it would be impossible for them to sell each other a gold brick.

CURRENT COMMENT.

What the South wants is the immigrant who will farm, not one who will run a fruit stand.—Atlanta Journal.

Sciator Simmons has rendered as much service to his State since he has been representing it as any other man who has ever represented it, and there is no more reason to turn him out, than for a business man to discharge a faithful employe of twelve years service simply because some other fellow wanted the job.—Newbern Sun.

President Taft vetoed the wool bill after having declared the existing wool schedule indefensible. He awaits a report of the tariff commission, formed ostensibly to provide for graft scientifically, but really to delay revision. That President Taft is an example of the noblest work of God may be admitted without denying that he is surrounded by persons who know exactly what they want.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Eighty per cent. of the digging in the Panama canal has been completed That means the conclusion of the digging is practically within sight, and that if nothing untoward happens the formal opening of the great ditch will take place on schedule time. The French people must feel just a bit jealous to note with what expedition and success the Americans have carried forward a work on which they failed.—Savannah News.

Potsmaster General Hitchcock again recommends the gradual establishment of the parcels post, beginning with the rural district. This reform has been too long delayed, and in the next session of Congress there will be ample opportunity for its favorable consideration. When established the alliance of railroad president and directors with the express companies that are skimming the cream of freight transportation will be dissolved without further action of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. The railroad companies will then recognize the economy of distributing as well as carrying their freights. — Philadelphia Record (Dem.)

President Taft's "keynote speech" in Massachusetts will hardly be claimed by the unprejudiced to be either strong, ingenuous or persuasive. It is more like the utterance of a politician trying to escape responsibility by denouncing the opposition than that of a statesman seeking to help the people solve important problems. The President gives the Democrats a sort of half-hearted credit for "uniting with the Republicans" to pass the Reciprocity bill, "because they believed in its usefulness." This is much like giving the dog credit for being wagged by the tail, when it is remembered that in both the House, where they were in the majority, and in the Senate, where they were in the minority, the Democrats furnished the greater number of votes to pass that measure. —Baltimore Sun.

There is a well grounded suspicion that the new Democratic organization will be friendly to Gov. Woodrow Wilson as against any of the conspicuous Democratic candidates including, of course, Gov. Harmon. The announcement sets forth that the organization is formed to contend for principles, that the advocacy of candidates at this time is expressly prohibited. This also was the original nanouncement of the National Progressive League. None of the officers of the Republican organization now even attempt to conceal their opposition to the renomination of President Taft. Indeed, some of them, notably Senator Bourne, have gone so far as seemingly to make their support of President Taft, if renominated, impossible.—Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.)

FAINTED ON CAR

Young Lady Goes Into Convulsions Returning from Beach

Returning from Wrightsville Beach on a suburban car last night Miss Eliza White, of Greenville, Texas, who is visiting Miss Beulah Brock, at the home of her father, Mr. J. O. Brock, 522 South Fifth street, went into a convulsion near Winter Park Gardens about 11:05 P. M. Miss Brock and several friends were with her and she was brought on to the city as soon as possible. When the car stopped at the Junction Dr. Frank H. Russell was summoned, and as the young lady had not yet recovered consciousness he thought it best that she be taken to the Harper Sanitorium where she could have a nurse during the night. The suburban car was transferred to the belt line and Miss White was carried to the Sanitorium on this. She recovered consciousness before the Sanitorium was reached and was reported to be resting very well late last night.

Members of Mr. Brock's family stated that Miss White was subject to such attacks, which are caused by a nervous trouble. Usually the attack last only about 10 minutes and they became alarmed last night on account of the length of the attack. Miss White has been the guest of Miss Brock for a week, and has made many friends in the city who will be glad to learn that her trouble is not considered serious and that she is expected to be out in a short time.

BIDS FOR BONDS BELOW PAR

Best Offer for the $100,000 Worth Street Bonds Was 98 1-2—Neither Bid Accepted—Will Readvertise.

Neither of the three bids opened yesterday at noon for the offer of $100,000 worth of municipal bonds for street improvements was satisfactory to the City Council, each being below par, 98 1-2 being the best proposal submitted, so later, when the bond market is better and more certain, the city clerk and treasurer will be authorized to re-advertise for bids, and it is believed that a price above par will be received. Under the law authorizing the bond issue the Council cannot accept a bid for less than par. The Council has the power to say as to what rate of interest shall be paid, but the Councilmen who expressed themselves yesterday said that they would not be in favor of increasing the rate from 4 1-2 per cent.

The failure to place the bonds at this time does not necessarily mean the stoppage of the very extensive street improvements which are now about to be undertaken by the city through the Department of Streets and Wharves, in charge of Councilman P. Q. Moore, who stated, however, that he would prefer to suspend all street work rather than to sell the bonds for less than par value even if the law would permit this to be done. Some way will be found by which the work may be carried on without interruption, it is believed. Besides, not all the money from the sale of the first $100,000 of the $400,000 has yet been expended. Councilman P. Q. Moore mentioned the fact that the Wilmington banks are not doing as well as the Charlotte banks in the way of taking care of the city's bonds. Charlotte, it will be recalled, having sold $300,000 worth of 4 1-2 per cent. bonds a few days ago at a figure above par to the banks of that city. Later on in the meeting Councilman Tiencken also commented upon the attitude of the Wilmington banks, while in other cities the local banks go to the rescue, as it were, of the municipalities, and purchase the bonds at a premium. Wilmington banks, however, are good at borrowing our money, Councilman Tiencken said. Mr. Chas. E. Taylor, Jr., president of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Co., who was present, stated that he offered to take $100,000 worth of bonds of the same issue about six months ago at par with accrued interest, but the city, at that time, thought a better price could be secured by waiting.

The bids were opened at 12 o'clock in the office of the city clerk and treasurer, Capt. Thos. D. Meares. There were present Mayor Smith, Councilmen Tiencken, P. Q. Moore and B. C. Moore, and representatives of one or two of the bidders. Bids were asked for bonds to run for 40 years and bear interest from October 1st, 1911, at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent. The three bidders were:

Weil, Roth & Co., Cincinnati, offered par, provided they be allowed $1,500 for furnishing necessary bonds, attorney fees and other expenses incident to preparation and delivery of bonds. This was the best bid received.

Security Trust Co., Spartanburg, S. C., would pay par and accrued interest provided allowance of $1,850 were made for attorney fees, etc.

S. A. Kean & Co., bankers, Chicago, would pay par provided the city make an allowance of $4,950 for attorney fees, etc.

To say that the Councilmen were surprised that all the offers were below par is expressing it but mildly. They were so completely taken back that not a single member had anything to say for a minute or two following the reading of the bids by the clerk. They had not anticipated that any of the bids would be for less than par, knowing as they did that the law expressly states that the bonds cannot be sold for less, and Charlotte's good luck being fresh in their minds. The bidders evidently realized that the bonds could not be sold at less than par, for instead of making a straight offer of an amount below par they offered par and provided an offset for attorney fees, etc. City Attorney McClammy said that this would not be carrying out the provisions of the law; that under the law the Council would have to receive the full par value of the bonds. He also stated that it is the city's business to furnish the bonds, which was another reason why neither of the three offers could be accepted.

Mr. Taylor said that he considered the offers rather liberal in view of had heard some bond dealers say as to what they would be willing to pay. These dealers had not submitted bids, but had stated that they would not care to pay more than 93 or 94 per cent. municipal bonds. One of the other representatives present stated that the city would get a much better bid perhaps for the bonds if the rate of interest was increased to 5 per cent., which Councilmen stated they would not agree to. He also stated that the bond market is not only bad at this time, but is very uncertain, due to a number of influences. He thought it possible, however, that the market would improve some later.

COLORED FOLKS MEET HERE

Fifteenth Annual Missionary Convention Began Yesterday Morning. Day of Much Activity—Welcome by Mayor.

(By Geo. F. King.)

The 15th annual session of the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention began yesterday morning under auspicious circumstances in Central Baptist Church, colored, Seventh and Red Cross streets. At 10 o'clock devotional exercises were begun, after which the convention got down to the bottom rock of affairs and various committees were appointed; delegates were enrolled and a number of prominent visitors were introduced.

Dr. Chas. C. Morris, one of the ablest scholars and preachers of his race and who has just closed one of the greatest revivals recorded in the history of the negro race, that revolutionized the colored population of Norfolk and carrying the number of conversions up to about 4,000, gave the convention some of his inspiration and eloquence at this session. There are about 300 delegates and visitors in the city and today the number will be largely increased, from what the officials say.

Dr. A. W. Pegues, the efficient superintendent of the North Carolina institution for the deaf, dumb and blind young negroes at Raleigh, which is the leading institution of its kind for negroes, is the recording secretary and there is present from various sections of the country representative men and women. Among the prominent members arrived yesterday were Dr. W. J. Howard, first vice president of the convention for the District of Columbia, who has studied missionary work abroad and is ripe in experience; Dr. S. N. Vass, the efficient field secretary for the American Baptist Publication Society, and, who is regarded as the greatest Bible lecturer of his race; Dr. J. A. Whitted, one of the most influential ministers of his race and among the sane leaders that are making a large number of their race productive and energetic citizens for good.

Dr. C. S. Brown, the president of the convention, made his annual address at the afternoon session yesterday, which was a masterly effort and created pronounced enthusiasm among the large assembly. His address was full of timely recommendations and was received with great eclat and his administration was heartily approved.

After several concise but intellectual comments on the president's address, Dr. W. M. Alexander, corresponding secretary, made his report that again kindled the enthusiasm of the body.

Touching upon the civil advancement of his race, Dr. Alexander made the following utterances about mob violence: "Lynching and burning of colored men charged with crime is not confined to the Southern States. In this section it is on the decrease and the press does not report so many heinous crimes alleged to have been committed by colored men as an excuse for lynching as it did almost daily in previous years. The most shameful and degrading press reports of lynching and burning during this year occurred in the State of Pennsylvania." After narrating this event, in an optimistic vein, exclaimed, "Our salvation, as a race, depends on our respect for and obedience to law and order and we must prove our respect by giving law officers all the assistance we can and by doing our best, one and all to reform criminals in our ranks and to make them useful members of society."

The report of Dr. P. F. Morris, field secretary and recognized as one of the leading theological professors of his race, was well received and this report exhibited his ability to get good results in his field. He is one of the potent factors of the convention. Dr. W. T. Johnson is one of the leading Christian Endeavor workers in his race, is chairman of the executive board; Prof. Nelson Williams, Jr., secretary of the executive board, is one of the leading young business men of his race; Rev. G. E. Reed, D. D., statistician, and Dr. A. A. Graham, the auditor, made their reports at the afternoon session and received their share of honors for the good work accomplished during the past year.

Last night the church in which the convention is being held, did not have the capacity to accommodate the large crowd that came out to attend. The solo work of D. Sadgwar was the principal feature of the musical numbers. She has a fine and well trained voice. Welcome addresses by Dr. G. W. Moore and Hannah E. Kelly followed, both being well received.

Mayor Smith's Welcome.

One of the most cordial welcomes came from Mayor Joseph D. Smith, who is fast making a reputation as an orator, and who is held in the highest esteem by the colored folks generally in the city. His address was listened to with evident interest not only by the colored folks, but by the goodly number of white people present. Mayor Smith spoke as follows:

"To the Members of the Lott Carey Foreign Missionary Society:—I have been requested as the chief magistrate of this city to extend a welcome and it is a pleasure for me to do so, for anything tending to uplift humanity should have not only my personal support, but my official one.

"And not only to them, but to all visitors, who take an interest in them, or their work, do I give this welcome.

"And what you have done and what is your work to earn this welcome I will not attempt to say, for I will not go into statistics, as the Lott Carey Herald keeps you posted on that, but I will say for the information of those present who do not know your organization, that this is your 15th annual convention and your offerings per annum have increased from an infinitesimal amount to $40,000 and you have, I believe, five missionaries in Africa, besides other missions to look after. Is not that a great work?

"And I want to especially welcome the Woman's Auxiliary, which I understand is known by you as the 'Golden Link' in your work on account of the way they are connected with you and which is looked upon as an inspiration to you in the noble work you are doing and which has Hope for their president and given you hope of their further efforts by their present generous financial aid.

"I wish to compliment you on the selection of one of your own race as the name of your society. It is well chosen and pays a fitting tribute to one who so nobly made great sacrifices in order to carry to his benighted people the light of the Gospel.

"We are told that God is no respector of persons and men of the spirit of Lott Carey will stand out in bold relief in the eye of the Great Creator when we are all summoned before His throne to give an account of our stewardship.

"We hear frequent discussions of the benefits of home as opposed to foreign missions, but no one can gainsay this, that Christ's command was to 'Go out into all the world' and that a wonderful amount of good is done in certain sections in bringing those in darkness into the sunshine of the everlasting truth, and the misery that is alleviated speaks to God in praise of those who are the benefactors of the suffering.

"He who has no knowledge of the growth of a tree and holds a tiny acorn in his hand would not be able to comprehend the dynamic power, the potentiality as the scholars say, or the force as we plain people would express it, in that little shell. He cannot imagine the giant tree, the beginning of which is that little acorn and which will grow and grow until it becomes a shoot, then a twig ever looking upward into the face of the Creator with faith, growing finally into a tree the body of which gives planks for ships, etc., the limbs fuel for comforting the cold and preparing food for the hungry and its branches giving protection against the sun and even the rain.

"So without discounting Peter's action in going to Cornelius, the centurion, who was not a Jew, or that of Paul and Barnabas at Antioch in Pisidia, turning unto the Gentiles, I wish to say that when Paul beheld in a vision the man of Macedonia calling for help for his people, and heeded the call, little did he or Barnabas, or the world around him realize, or even dream, that his going was but the tiny acorn of the tree of foreign missions, which has grown till its trunk gives planks to build many a ship of hope with the words 'Glad tidings of great joy' on its flag flying from the masthead, and has furnished planks for the storm tossed sinner to rest on till the 'Good old ship of Zion' came along and picked him up.

"And its branches have made fuel to warm the ice cold soul and to help prepare the spiritual food for these hungry for the word of God, and have also spread over the four corners of the earth and millions have taken refuge under its shade from the burning sun of sin and degradation.

"And to you who are helping in the expansion of this wonderful tree is due a great credit for your persistent work.

"And for the light you are carrying to those in darkness you should feel happier, for,

"'The sunlight is glancing
O'er armies advancing
To conquer the kingdoms of sin,
Our Lord shall possess them
His presence shall bless them
His beauty shall enter them in.'

"'The kingdom is coming, Oh, tell ye the story
God's banner exalted shall be
The earth shall be full of His knowledge and glory,
As water that cover the sea.'

"To you then, who in the way of missions, and I hope others also, are trying to obey the commands of the Man of Galilee, I extend a hearty welcome to our city, which has never failed to appreciate the worthy colored man and his efforts for good and given him a showing in making his living and has done what it could to help educate his children and the protection of our laws and a look into the bright and happy as well as the intelligent faces before me will show you that they are among friends.

"Look around at the fine brick churches of your people and see how they are getting along in that way and their school buildings, look at them. When you compare the tax paid by our colored friends with that paid by the whites you can then see that we are their friends for the tax list for the county for last year, (this year's is not yet completed), shows that we pay over $135,000 and the colored people pay a little under $9,400. And yet the whites have only 69 teachers to the colored people's 36, and the pay is very near the same proportion, considering the extra expense that the whites have as cost of living. The cost of school property for the colored race is over $17,000, and out of 16 school districts the colored have schools in 14, and they have the same school year and the county teachers' association is run just like the white one. They are now sinking deep wells and to show you in a small way how the colored people are cared for, three are for whites and two for the colored schools.

"Just two blocks from here you will see a fine hospital building erected for the whites by a generous white man and adjoining it is a building for the colored, costing, it is said, $10,000, given by another generous white man of our city, and the whole is run by our county and city. I could multiply instances like this, but will not trespass on your time.

"There may be individual cases of wrong ,but not wholesale ones.

"And now let me conclude by saying that I hope you will all enjoy your stay here and go away with a pleasant impression of our city, and I guarantee it that your colored friends will do all they can to help you do so, and I hope all the delegates have arrived and answered to their names on the roll and that in the world to come when the roll call is made you will be present then, and may we all say in our hearts now, 'When the general roll is called, I'll be there'."

The welcome addresses on the part of the colored Baptist ministers by Rev. W. H. Moore, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church; on the part of the ministers' conference, this city, by Dr. G. D. Carnes, pastor of St. Stephen's A. M. E. Church, had the tone that accentuated the spirit of the convention and added to the intellectual, moral and spiritual atmosphere that had been produced by the programme for the day. In making one of the responses to the welcome addresses, Rev. Dr. W. T. Johnson, of Richmond, Va., made an exceedingly strong and rich address. He had the power to sway his audience by his native eloquence. He said that in the great missionary world today we have a picture presented and it is our duty to look on both sides of it, and the speaker then began to draw a picture of the condition of the mission at home and abroad in such graphic language that was touching and indelibly impressed upon every one in the audience in sympathy with the cause of missions.

Mr. W. H. Sprunt was eulogized by a number of the colored speakers residing in Wilmington. Every time the names of a number of prominent white men present were mentioned it occasioned much enthusiasm.

Dr. S. N. Vass, who is doing a remarkable work to encourage Bible study among his race by lecturing to hundreds of his people delivered the other response to the welcome addresses. He has attained a unique place in the realm of the best speakers, especially in his race, by his characteristic manner of stating facts and carrying home to the audience the force of his logic. He is a good rhetorician and with his keen knowledge of mastering every phase of the Christian work making this convention a prominent channel through which to reach men and women, his response helped to add to the climax of the closing events of the day.

Beginning at 10 o'clock this morning the programme for the Woman's Auxiliary of the convention with their 15th annual meeting with the circle of the Central Baptist Church will be a strong and attractive feature of the convention. The women will have an afternoon and evening session and the addresses will be very helpful according to the subject to be discussed.

The convention will have an outing to the ocean on trolley cars this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Dull and Commonplace Session Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday's session of the Recorder's court was rather on the commonplace order, as the only case of interest on the docket, that of Messrs. Mack Godwin and Thomas Croom, for an affray, was continued until this morning.

John Hill, colored, charged with an assault on a female, was tried after being confined in jail 36 days and was found guilty. However, the case was left open and the negro was remanded to jail, to which he was committed by Coroner C. D. Bell in default of $200 bond, as a witness in the case charging Paul Sharpless, colored, with the murder of Jerry McGee, a negro preacher.

William Hall, Walter Faison, Resky Reid and William Brown, all colored, were charged with disorderly conduct and were taxed $5 and costs each.

Geo. McMillan, white, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $20 and the costs. Martin Ford, colored, for a similar offense, was assessed $5 and costs. A nol pros was taken in a case charging J. W. Bass with violating the dog tax ordinance.

OLDEST AND LARGEST SAVINGS BANK IN THE CITY

ARRESTED BY REVENUE MAN

W. S. Mintz, Formerly of This City, Charged With Retailing Without Government License—Out Under $500 Bond.

W. S. Mintz, who formerly ran a printing shop on Dock street, between Water and Front, but who says he is now engaged in boat building in Brunswick county, was arrested yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock at Front and Princess streets, by Deputy United States Marshal C. O. Knox, on a charge of retailing whiskey without license with the intent to defraud the United States government of the tax imposed thereon. He was committed to jail by United States Commissioner Harriss in default of $500 bond pending a preliminary investigation, and at 8 o'clock last night he was released upon furnishing justified bond of $500 with his father, Mr. S. H. Mintz, as his surety.

The preliminary hearing will be held before Commissioner Harris Thursday, September 14th, at 12 o'clock. Mintz will be represented by Woodus Kellum, Esq., of the firm of Kellum & Loughlin.

The warrant on which Mintz was arrested was issued by Commissioner Harriss upon affidavit signed by Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue J. B. Holland, who lives at Dunn, N. C. The sale upon which the warrant is based is alleged to have taken place at Winnabow, Brunswick county, on or about July 26th. It will be remembered that Mrs. Helen A. Kelly, of Winnabow, was arrested in this city some time ago by revenue officers on a charge of retailing and it was said yesterday that there might be some connection with the two cases. Mrs. Kelly was arrested here while registered under an assumed name at one of the prominent hotels of the city. She stated to Commissioner Harriss after the arrest that she went to the hotel under an assumed name upon the advice of her counsel. She waived examination and was released under bond for her appearance at the next term of United States District Court which will be held here in November.

The government claims that it has a strong case against Mintz, having found sufficient evidence in Brunswick county to secure a conviction. Just what this evidence was the commissioner would not impart, but he stated, however, that he had been informed by the officers that five barrels of whiskey are now at the freight depot in the city consigned to Mintz.

MARRIAGE OF POPULAR COUPLE LAST EVENING

A simple but beautiful marriage was celebrated at the parsonage of the Bladen Street Methodist church last evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Etta May Ormsby daughter of Mr. J. O. Ormsby, No. 703 1-2 North Fourth street, became the bride of Mr. Christopher Eugene Carney, of Wilmington, Rev. W. L. Rexford officiating.

Quite a number of friends and relatives of the young people attended the ceremony. The bride was handsomely gowned in a dress of white silk with hat to match, and made a very charming picture as she took the vows.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Carney went to 708 North Third street, where they will make their home. Mrs. Carney is a charming young woman of engaging personality. The groom is a Pullman conductor with a run between Wilmington and Florence, S. C. Both have a wide circle of friends in the city, who will wish them a very happy married life.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT.

Citizens Will Discuss Sanitary Closets and Other Things.

Those who feel that they have a grievance against the City Council for adopting the sanitary closet ordinance and for doing other things which do not exactly coincide with their views will have their inning tonight at a mass meeting which has been called to be held at the Court House either in the open or inside the building. The call for the meeting was issued Tuesday by Mr. J. W. West, who says that he is representing a large portion of the small taxpayers of the city and not a few of the larger ones. He says that the meeting will be a rousing one and that it will do all citizens good to be present.

The sanitary closets will be given special attention. There is general and widespread complaint against the closet on the ground that a terrible odor emanates therefrom and this is the chief objection to the new device, which the Council, by an ordinance, has said the owners of surface closets must install by the 1st of September, which is tomorrow. Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, the Mayor and Councilmen have received a special invitation through the press to be present and hear the discussion.

It is stated that a number of other things which this administration has done as well as some things it has failed to do, will be brought up at the meeting. One of the matters to be brought up is the failure to enforce the "inspection ordinance," which was adopted nearly two months ago, and which went into effect July 22nd last. Although this ordinance was strongly urged by the police department as being the one thing needed to make the capture of "blind tigers" a comparatively easy matter, no apparent effort has as yet been made to enforce it.

Besides, it is said that the Council will be taken to task for what will be characterized as an extravagance on their part in the management of the affairs of the city.

The public is invited to attend the meeting and there will no doubt be a large gathering. Many of those owning surface closets because they cannot get sewer connections are up in arms and a great many others have it "in for" the Council for one thing or another, therefore the attendance of persons directly interested is expected to be large, and in addition there will be a goodly number who will go out of curiosity.

Entertainment Friday Night.

An entertainment will be given by the Union Sunday School on the Castle Haynes road, on Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The entertainment is for the purpose of raising funds for beautifying and improving the yards of the school and it deserves a large patronage. There will be a pleasing programme of recitations, singing, etc., and refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited and is requested not to forget the hour, 8 o'clock.

VALENTINE MAY BE LOST.

Tugs Make Unsuccessful Effort to Float Her—Pounded Keel Out.

Capt. C. D. Maffitt, owners' agent, returned yesterday afternoon from Southport, N. C., where he has been since Tuesday conferring with the masters of the several vessels in distress there as the result of Monday's fearful storm off this coast. There were no further casualties reported yesterday.

The schooner Chas. H. Valentine, previously reported having gone ashore on Bald Head Island while attempting to sail in without a pilot on Tuesday, remained yesterday in a precarious condition, having pounded her keel out on the shoal, after the tugs Tormentor and Sea King had made an unsuccessful attempt to float her. The tugs moved the vessel a coupie of lengths, but in the meantime her hawser parted and the tide having fallen, no further effort was made to get her afloat during the afternoon. After conferring with Capt. Maffitt, the master of the schooner, Capt. Walker, decided to jettison her deck load of lumber and another effort will be made to float her on high tide this morning at 1 o'clock. The crew is all safe, but it is doubtful if the vessel can be saved. The schooner is bound from Charleston to New London.

Capt. Maffitt stated that nothing had been heard at Southport of the Revenue Cutter Seminole, which on Tuesday went to the rescue of the schooner Fortuna reported dismasted further up the coast.

"POLITE'S PEPPER SAUCE."

Serial Number Granted Well Known Wilmington Product—Manufacture.

William Polite, the well known and affable head waiter at The Orton, who recently invented and marketed in a small way a new brand of pepper sauce, bearing the name of the inventor and which found a ready sale wherever offered, has just received from Hon. James Wilson, Secretary of the United States Agricultural Department, his Serial Number under the Pure Food and Drugs Act of June 30, 1906. The guaranty furnished by the manufacturer was found quite satisfactory to the department as to quality and purity and the number granted is 39,400. Every bottle of the sauce manufactured hereafter will bear the guaranty under this serial number.

The inventor of this sauce, which has been on sale at all grocery stores, is preparing to manufacture the product on a wide scale and to that end contemplates the organization of a stock company to place the required machinery, etc. The sauce was well received on the local and other markets and with larger facilities for its manufacture, it should at once jump into popular favor.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guess work in this evidence of Thos. MR. WILLARD APPOINTED.

Becomes Agent of Marine Underwriters in Wilmington—Appointment.

Mr. M. S. Willard, the well known insurance man of this city, has been appointed agent of the National Board of Marine Underwriters for the "vicinity of Wilmington," and also of the Board of Underwriters of New York for the marine district embraced between New River Inlet south and west to the Eight-Mile Swamp. In these important positions to the maritime interests of the port, Mr. Willard succeeds the late Col. John Wilder Atkinson, with whom Mr. Willard was for a long time associated during the early part of his insurance career. Mr. Willard will represent the marine underwriters of both associations, which cover practically all the big companies doing a marine insurance business in the world. His territory also covers the Cape Fear river, of course. The selection is well made and the interests of the underwriters will be safe in the hands of the new appointee.

Juvenile Kleptomaniac Arrested.

The police have arrested a juvenile kleptomaniac in the person of George Johnson, colored, eight years old. The lad was taken into custody after he had stolen a 22-calibre rifle from the back porch of a residence in the city, tried to trade the rifle to Mr. Geo. C. Simmons, a gunsmith on Front, between Dock and Market street for a pistol, and failing in this grabbed the pistol and fled. When arrested he had the rifle with him but he had given the revolver to another negro boy who could not be located. He will probably be tried before the Recorder this morning.

Mornings when I got up, I was very lame and sore and I noticed that the kidney secretions contained sediment. ISSUES CAUSTIC STATEMENT

City Superintendent of Health Discourses on the Sanitary Closet Situation—Replies to Criticisms

Declaring that Wilmington, with her enormous death rate from preventable disease, the wide publicity given her sanitary conditions by the reports issued by the United States Government and the recent comment of a humorous nature throughout the press of the country as a result of the attempted recall based on the cow and hog ordinance, needs only the spectacle of a mass meeting to protest against the installation of sanitary privies to make her and her citizens the laughing stock of the "civilized" globe and brand the city as a place unfit and unsafe in which to live, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, yesterday issued a statement relative to the criticisms of the sanitary closets which are being installed in the city in compliance with an ordinance recently passed by the City Council.

Dr. Nesbitt's statement is called forth as a result of the statement appearing in the local press yesterday asking citizens to appear at the Court House Thursday night at 8 o'clock to protest against the sanitary closets. The statement is as follows:

"In order to make the sanitary closet situation perfectly plain, I desire to submit the following statement of the situation as it now exists here and elsewhere. From 30 to 40 per cent. of our enormous death rate from preventable disease is directly traceable to the pollution of the soil and flies. The most dangerous source of soil pollution, and of fly borne disease is the surface closet. This fact has been established by every scientific investigation that has had to do with the surface closet. In order to put a stop to the great number of unnecessary deaths which occur in Wilmington the first and most important consideration is to abolish the old surface closet. The essentials of a closet which will prevent the spread of disease from this source, are, that none of the dejecta shall reach the ground and no flies shall visit the closet for the purpose of feeding or breeding.

The type of closet which we have selected for installation in Wilmington furnishes these essentials in a completely acceptable way, provided the directions for the care of these closets are strictly followed. These directions have been printed in circular form and have been distributed by the health officers when making their rounds, and from the health office direct. Those who have obtained these directions and followed them carefully find that there is no odor from this type of closet and that it is satisfactory. In order to protect the contents of cans from flies it was necessary to choose one of two methods. The first method included the construction of a completely new closet which should be a tight building provided with a tight fitting door on a weight which should keep it closed. The ventilations at the floor and roof covered with wire gauze, and ventilating flue extending from beneath the seat out through the roof, the cost of this structure is from $10 to $15 for each closet. The other method which is even more effective than the foregoing if properly attended to, requires simply that the solid contents of the can be covered with water and that this water shall bear a scum of kerosene oil. It has been proved by experiment and experience byond all necessity for further controversy that flies will not feed or breed in human feces protected with kerosene oil in the manner described above, and it has been proved with equal certainty that there is no odor from such a closet kept with water and oil as directed. Closets of this description have been in use in cities and towns in the United States for the past four years. This plan or arranging the closet is the result of experiments conducted in the Laboratory of Hygiene of the United States government. The efficiency of this type of closet has not been left to the intelligence of the citizens of Wilmington for demonstration.

"Inasmuch as an efficient sewer will be at the disposal of the citizens of Wilmington within a year or eighteen months from this date, and it will be necessary for all premises to be connected with the sewer as soon as it becomes available, it was deemed best by this department to adopt the cheapest form of sanitary closet in order to save the citizens of Wilmington the expense of the more complete fly screened closet.

"The sanitary closet has been in use in Asheville for the past two years. "The following is an extract from a letter received yesterday by the Superintendent of Health, from Dr. L. B. McBrayer, the superintendent of health in Asheville:

"'I desire to congratulate you on the splendid work you are doing in Wilmington. Let me say in closing that our people have received our sanitary closets gladly. We have only sworn out one warrant to require this closet installed. I am glad to be able to state that our typhoid this year only shows about 40 per cent. of last year, and we had a small amount of fever last year. To be accurate, we have only had thirty cases in the last ten months and it has been pleasing this year that not a single case has occurred where the people use these closets. Most cases have been contraced outside the city, a few from springs and wells and a few from contact.'

"'Sincerely yous,
"'L. B. McBRAYER,
"'Heaath Officer.'

"Our enormous death rate from preventable disease, the widely read statements of our sanitary conditions as published in the reports issued by the United States government, the recent widespread humorous comment in the newspapers on the attempted recall based on the cow and hog ordinances, needs only the addition of the spectacle of a mass meeting to protest against the installation of sanitary privies, to make Wilmington and her citizens the laughing stock of our civilized neighbors, and to brand Wilmington as an unfit and unsafe place in which to live.

"CHAS. T. NESBITT,
"Supt. of Health."

Horse Ran from Sound to City.

Mr. E. A. Todd's horse became frightened in some 'way yesterday evening at Wrightsville Sound and ran from there to Daniels' stables on Second street, while hitched to a buggy, making time said to be remarkable. Fortunately no one was in the buggy at the time. When Mr. Todd found that his horse had started for the city he telephoned Daniels' stables to look out for the animal. The message had hardly been received when the horse dashed around the corner of Market into Second street, throwing the buggy on its side at the turn. The animal dashed through a crowd in front of the stable and into the building. Aside from some slight damage done to the buggy top the outfit sustained no injury.

TRADING IN COTTON WAS QUIET

Sensational Fluctuations in Contracts for August Delivery—Opening Steady at Decline of 38 Points—Futures.

New York, August 30.—While there were sensational fluctuations in contracts for August delivery in the local cotton market today, trading was comparatively quiet and the market ruled rather firmer following an early decline with the close steady, net 23 points lower on August, but from 2 to 7 points higher on later months.

The opening was barely steady, at a decline of 38 points on August and of 36@12 on later months, owing to lower cables than looked for, the failure of early news to indicate that Atlantic Coast storms had caused any material damage to the cotton crop, more favorable private reports following rains in the Southwest, and scattering liquidation.

It was rumored that old crop bull interests had turned over their spot cotton holdings to one of the leading spot houses at the price of December contracts, and an idea that they had abandoned their position, brought out considerable trailing liquidation of August as well as some selling against late arrivals from the South. In all, about 10,000 bales were sold, and the price broke to 11.25, or 73 points under the closing figures of yesterday. The purchases on this decline, however, were said to be for the leading old crop bull, and after liquidation had run its course August was bid up to 11.75, without bringing out any cotton of consequence and closed at the level.

New crop positions, meanwhile, gradually rallied from the early low point on scattered covering, which seemed to be inspired by apprehensions of a Gulf storm and a private report making the condition of the crop 74.9, against 90.1 last month. October advanced from 11.15 to 11.30; and new crop positions closed within a point or two of the top. The violent fluctuations in August seemed to be confusing the general trade, but business in that position must be wound up by noon tomorrow.

Receipts today, 32,767 bales, against 14,925 bales last week, and 12,700 bales last year. At New Orleans today, 2,637 bales, against 906 bales last week, and 1,688 bales last year. At Houston today 17,502 bales, against 10,391 bales last week, and 11,479 bales last year.

Spot closed quiet, forty points lower; middling uplands, 12.00; middling gulf, 12.25; sales, 100 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed steady.

STOCK MARKET IS DECLINING

Sharp Drive at the Opening Carried Prices of Several Issues to Low Prices—Regarded as a Bear Raid.

New York, Aug. 30.—A sharp drive at stocks at the opening of the day's trading carried prices of several issues to the low price of the year. The movement, which was regarded as a bear raid, rather than a renewal of liquidation, was checked by buying which quickly forced back prices to yesterday's closing level and during the remainder of the day fluctuations were of small consequence. Another attempt to weaken the market by means of an attack on Lehigh Valley caused that stock to decline nearly three points late in the day, but had only slight effect elsewhere, and the session ended with only small net changes among the active issues.

Among the railroad stocks Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio fell below the previous bottom figures of the present depression, as did International Harvester and several other less prominent industrials. The opinion was held in some quarters that the drives at the market were chiefly intended to facilitate short covering.

Some influence was exerted upon sentiment by better crop news and by the July returns, which, as a whole, have been unexpectedly favorable.

The reports of the Harriman lines, however, revealed declines in net earnings of $362,000 for Union Pacific and $443,000 for Southern Pacific. The effect of these returns and of further uncertainty as to the outcome of labor difficulties was seen in the continued weakness in the Harriman stocks.

Bankers stated today that the banks were sustaining steady losses on account of the drawing down of interior balances. A considerable amount of these calls upon New York are in conenction with the cotton crop movement. Money is in good supply throughout the country, however, and the general demand for accommodation remains so light that the outward movement of funds from this center doubtless will be relatively light through the Autumn.

Optimistic statements in regard to the copper trade were made today by several large producers, who said that August had been one of the best months that trade has experienced this year.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,550,000. nited States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day, 427,100 shares.

BEATTIE DEFENSE HAS AN INNING

ness, "three times, the Wednesday, Friday and Monday before the murder. He was a bearded man. He seemed to b fifty years of age.

This testimony was the first introduced by the defense to support Henry Clay Beattie, Jr.'s story of the alleged bearded highwayman.

"Was it a white or colored man?" asked Prosecutor Wendenburg.

"White man."

"He had a gray beard?"

'Beard about two weeks old."

"In what position from the scene of the murder did you see the man?"

"About three quarters of a mile away."

'What kind of a hat did he have?"

"Slouch hat."

"What kind of clothes?"

"Dark."

"Which way was he going each time you saw him?"

"Once he was going west. The other time he was sitting down. I don't know which way he was going then."

"Who did you first tell about the apparation you saw in the shape of an old man?"

"A young man by the name of John Ford."

"Did the strange man have a gun?"

"Not when I saw him."

The witness was excused.

Breadnax Robertson, a companion of young Robertson, corroborated his chum's testimony of yesterday concerning the presence of additional blood spots.

He said he accompanied young Robertson and found the spots together with him, two days after the murder.

One of the jurors asked the boy if the spot was in the middle of the road or not. He said it was not and declared that the spot could be plainly seen by any one in a wagon or buggy traveling along the road.

W. R. Holland, a quarryman, said on the witness stand today that he saw a bearded man with a shot gun on the afternoon before the murder. Holland lives near the scene of the tragedy.

"Do you remember seeing any person on the track of the belt line at the time of the murder?" he was asked by Mr. Smith for the defense.

"Yes."

"What sort of looking man was he?"

"Man about six feet tall."

"When was it?"

"About 5 or 5:30 in the afternoon just before the murder"

"Did he have anything?"

"He had a single barrel shot gun."

"Is there anything to hunt this time of year?"

"No."

"Would you know the man if you saw him?" asked Prosecutor Wendenburg.

"Yes."

"What kind of hair did he have?"

"Sandy beard. I did not notice his hair."

"Any one with you when the man with the shot gun passed?"

"Yes, but I don't know his name."

"Was the man with the gun a stranger?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever see him before?"

"Once in Richmond a year ago at a police station when I went to identify some stolen brasses."

Holland was then excused.

The prosecution today placed on the stand fourteen witnesses nearly all of whom were county detectives to controvert the testimony of young Alexander Robertson as to the presence of more than one blood spot on the Midlothian turnpike where Mrs. Beattie was killed. The State had contended that the big blood spot where the murder occurred was not caused by dropping from the machine in which Henry Beattie, Jr., alleged his wife was seated when shot, declaring that no blood whatever could have oozed through the bottom of the car and the grease drip pan beneath.

By concentrating attention on the single large spot of blood, the commonwealth intended to show that the woman was murdered in a different manner from that described by the husband.

Paul Beattie, who was placed on the stand again today by the defense, admitted that he had had a conversation with S. G. Booth concerning the murder, but he denied that he told Booth that he did not think his cousin Henry killed his wife. In previous testimony denied that he had had any conversation with Mr. Booth. He explained that he did not know the man by name, but by sight. Mr. Booth was present when Paul testified and was examined by the defense. He testified that Henry told him that he (Paul) did not think Henry killed his wife.

DRASTIC LEGISLATION

Notable Address by William Hornblower, Esq.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 30. — Overshadowing in general interest the several papers of the day, was the announcement late today that President Taft would tomorrow morning address the members of the American Bar Association now holding its 34th annual convention here.

A protest against "Further Experiments in Drastic Legislation" against business interests was voiced by William B. Hornblower, of New York, in an address on "Anti-Trust Legislation and Litigation," at tonight's session. Mr. Hornblawer declared that the Sherman anti-trust law failed to comply with what he considered the requisites of a proper statute.

"This statute," he said, "never has been and never can be literally and strictly applied. To so apply it would produce chaos in the business world. The statute must be applied not according to its language but according to its reasonable meaning or else it becomes the instrument of injustice and of ruin to the mercantile community.

"There is a point at which competition may lead to monopoly while a reasonable regulation or a reasonable agreement between the competitors may prevent monopoly. Prohibition of all combinations and of all restraint of trade is unwise. Civilization means co-operation; co-operation means combination; combination means restraint of competition."

Touching of the criminal aspect of the Sherman law, Mr. Hornblower said:

"Public opinion appears now to be clamoring for victims. It is not satisfied with damages or injunctions or possible receiverships, by punishment of individuals is loudly called for. Protests are even made against more pecuniary fines. Actual imprisonment of the offenders is demanded.

"For myself, I do not hesitate to say that the sweeping penal provisions of this law are unwise and unjust, and should be made more limited in their scope and much more definite and certain. Acts of moral turpitude, if properly defined in advance, may well be made criminal. Such acts of moral turpitude are, for instance, the use of unfair means to suppress competition and to crush out rivals, and agreements with competitors to raise prices or to restrict production. To make 'restraint of trade' criminal, irrespective of its character and purposes and irrespective of the methods pursued to accomplish the restraint, is to punish alike the intentional malefactor and the honorable and upright business man who has been guilty only of a technical violation of a prohibitory law."

"Another suggestion has been recently exploited and has the support of able advocates, namely, the creation by the Federal government of a commission or a number of Commissions who shall have power to regulate prices of articles of inter-State commerce. To my mind, this is an appalling suggestion. Nothing short of omniscence can enable such a commission to perform its work with intelligence and with safety to the best interests of producer and consumer. I believe that the Sherman law as intrpreted and enforced by the Supreme Court is quite adequate, so far, at least, as civil remedies are concerned, to meet any further attempts at dangerous aggregations of capital."

One of the interesting actions of the general session was the refusal to condemn the so-called "third degree" in criminal investigation.

The committee investigating the subject found that so little was known of the third degree that it is difficult to lay down any rule concerning it. It was the opinion of the committee that the alleged evil was local and that the remedy should be local.

COTTON BILLS OF LADING.

Special Session of Bankers' Committee in New York Sept. 1st.

New Orleans, Aug. 30.—Sol Wexler, chairman of special bills of lading committee at New Orleans cotton exchange received a telegram last night from Clay H. Hollister, chairman of a similar committee of American Bankers' Association, to the effect that a special session of the bankers' committee had been called for September 1, in New York City and requested that the New Orleans exchange have representatives in attendance. William Mason Smith and Charles Godchaux, who are in Michigan, were telegraphed by Mr. Wexler to attend the meeting.

The fact that September 1, is the date set for inauguration of the Liverpool plan for the validation of bills of ladings at a central clearing house in New York, which was vigorously opposed by Southern cotton men, financiers and others interested in the handling of cotton, adds to the efficacy to the proposed meeting of the bankers' committee and it is believed here that the protests of the South of the Southerners have not been without avail and may bear fruit at the coming meeting.

INVESTIGATING STEEL TRUST.

Chairman Stanley, of Congressional Committee, Visits Plant at Gary.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Chairman Stanlay, of the Congressional Committee investigating the alleged steel trust, spent four hours today inspecting the plant of the Indiana Steel Company at Gary, Ind., visiting the cottages of the laborers of the mills and discussing domestic and municipal conditions with the workmen and their wives.

Congressman Stanley was accompanied by Special Investigator Woolley, who said that probably not more than two men from the Indiana and Chicago district would be called to testify before the committee. Both left tonight for Duluth, Minn.

NO FARM LIFE SCHOOL.

Durham County Defeats the Proposition Through Apathy.

Durham, N. C., Aug. 30.—Durham smote the farm life school proposition yesterday, beating it by fully 200 votes, which means that less than 850 of them registered and were counted.

Apathy throughout the county partly explains it, but the campaign for the school should have been preceded by one of education. The measure was never fully understood and the farmers just slaughtered a proposition which cost them less than one-tenth what it would have cost the city and township of Durham and which was meant entirely for them.

TO DISCUSS COTTON CROP.

Meeting of Southern Cotton Organizations and Bankers Called.

New Orleans, Aug. 30.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange held today for the purpose of discussing the coming conference in this city of the representatives of the Southern cotton organizations and bankers September 18th the following statement was authorized:

"The New Orleans Cotton Exchange issued today a call for all of conference of exchanges, boards of trade, commercial bodies, bankers and exporters throughout the South to be held on Monday, September 18th, to consider the phrases of the Liverpool bill of lading plan which it is being endeavored to force on the Southern interests, and to devise measures for the protection for the respective and mutual interests of those engaged in the handling and financing of the Southern cotton crop. The object is to have a full and thorough representation of the commercial and financial interests of the South.

"The exchange will send formal invitations to as many institutions and prominent bankers and exporters as can be reached, but as some commercial organizations in the smaller towns of the South may not receive the notice, no complete list thereof being available, the Associated Press is requested to inform them that their delegates to the conference will meet with a cordial reception."

"The information given out yesterday that the date of the conference was set for September 15th, was erroneous," said Secretary Hester today. "It was informally discussed yesterday, but the date for the conference was officially set for September 18th, at today's meeting of the board."

CENTRE OF POPULATION

For United States is in Western Part of Bloomington, Ind.

Washington, Aug. 30.—The centre of population of the United States was announced by Director of the Census Durand today to be in the western part of the city of Bloomington, Monroe county, Indiana. This is eight miles further west than the location announced July 17th, when Director Durand placed it 4 1-4 miles south of Unionville, in the same county.

The exact longitude of the centre of population is 86 degrees 32 minutes and 20 seconds west, a difference of nine seconds, or eight miles, from the previous announcement. Bloomington is in Southern Indiana. Ten years ago the centre of population was six miles southeast of Columbus, Indiana, 39 miles east of its new location.

The change in the location of the centre of population since July 17th is due to the discovery of an error made in the census office. Two clerks worked separately in computing the geographical location, but both made the same error and the wrong result was published as the census offices' determination of the spot.

The movement of the centre of population 39 miles westward is due to the increase of population on the Pacific coast.

ESTABLISH PARCELS POST

Important Recommendations to Be Made by Secretary Hitchcock

Washington, Aug. 29.—An outline of the programme of legislation for the postal service, which Postmaster-General Hitchcock will ask the Congress to follow during the regular session to begin in December, was indicated by Mr. Hitchcock yesterday.

In his annual report, which will be laid before Congress in December, Mr. Hitchcock will recommend the establishment of a parcels post service on rural mail routes, the crystallization into law of proposed increases in second-class mail rates, and the enactment of the proposed law providing for a radical change in the system of compensating the railways for transporting the mails.

Mr. Hitchcock explained that it was his idea first to establish parcels post on the rural routes, in order that the administrative details of the system might be worked out without disadvantage to the postal service generally. Gradually, he would extend the parcels service to urban communities so that packages and parcels might be delivered locally by city carriers. Subsequently, the service would be extended to include railway transportation.

VOTE IN MARYLAND WAS CLOSE.

Gorman Nominated for Governor by One Vote in Convention.

Baltimore, Aug. 30.—On the face of practically complete unofficial returns today from the Democratic primary election in Maryland yesterday, State Senator Arthur Pue Gorman defeated State Senator Blair Lee for the gubernatorial nomination by one vote in the State convention to be held next month. Senator Gorman will have 65 votes as against 64 for Senator Lee. A factor that contributed to Senator Lee's defeat was the loss of one vote each in two of the counties he carried because of a decrease in population as shown by the last census.

Farmers' Union President States Bears Trying to Break Market

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 29.—Special: A telegram from C. S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, and A. C. Davis, secretary, to E. W. Dabbs, president of the South Carolina State Farmers' Union, says: "Committee just returned from North, found desperate effort by bears and spinners to break cotton market. BLACK HAND BOMB

Exploded in Front of New York Fruiter Early Yesterday

New York, Aug. 30.—The explosion of a Black Hand bomb loaded with dynamite and gun cotton in front of an Italian fruiter at Lexington avenue and Fifty-first street early today rattled the windows of residences and apartment houses for a mile along fashionable Fifth avenue and awakened hundreds of guests in the hotel Plaza, the St. Regis and other fashionable hostelries.

The infernal machine, which the police say was hurled by a Black Hand agent from a flying taxicab, was one of the most powerful ever exploded in New York. It tore a great hole in the pavement and completely demolished the lower portion of the fruiter's building.

The fruiter, Charles Romo, who is reputed wealthy, told the police that he had received many letters demanding money and threatening all sorts of dire punishment if the cash was not forthcoming. Romo's loss from the damage to his stock and building will probably reach $5,000.

An hour after the Lexington avenue explosion the police of the adjoining precinct reported a similar explosion on East 29th street in front of the headquarters of Anthony Capuco, proprietor of the Manhattan Macaroni Manufacturing Company. The crash smashed plate glass winodws in four buildings but did little damage.
